Death of Taft Removes Key Figure From U.S. Government

Three-Time Candidate for Presidential Nomination Victim of Cancer at 63

From UP and AP Dispatches
NEW YORK—Robert A. Taft, 63-year-old "Mr. Republican," whose party never gave him a chance to run for the presidency his father had held, died today (of cancer) in New York hospital.

The hospital bulletin said: "Senator Taft's life came to an end quietly, without pain, at 11.30 a.m., July 31, 1953.

"His death was the result of widespread, highly malignant, rapidly-growing tumors."

The bulletin was issued and signed by Dr. Claude E. Forner, Taft's physician and a member of the hospital staff.

His death removed from the political scene the key figure supporting President Eisenhower in the Senate and a tower of strength in the first Republican administration since the early 1930's.

His wife, Martha, his counsel and companion through a third of a century of politics, was forced by her own illness to remain in Washington. She visited him Tuesday but stayed only the one day. Mrs. Taft has been confined to a wheelchair since suffering a stroke three years ago.

The Ohio senator, whose illness forced him to give up the Senate Republican floor leadership last month, entered New York hospital July 4.

Three sons gathered for an all-night watch Thursday. They were William Howard III, 37, U.S. ambassador to Ireland who had flown here from Dublin Thursday; Robert, Jr., 35, and Lloyd Bowers, 30, the fourth son, Horace, 27, arrived this morning from Los Alamos, N.M.

Besides Mrs. Taft, the survivors include a brother, Charles

DEATH HITS SENATE BALANCE

WASHINGTON (UP)—News of Sen. Robert A. Taft's death struck the capital and the Eisenhower administration with sledge-hammer force today shortly after the Senate met in early session.

The thin Republican majority in the Senate had dwindled to nothing. To retain control the Republican party must now depend on the frequently uncertain course of Sen. Wayne Morse (Ind.-Ore.).

Morse told reporters, however, he would vote to keep Republicans in power.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio is a Democrat and is expected to appoint a Democrat to succeed "Mr. Republican" in the Senate. If so, the count would be:

Republicans 47, Democrats 48, Independent 1.

On a showdown, with Morse voting to keep the Republicans in power, the Senate would be tied, 48-to-48.

P. Taft, Cincinnati lawyer, government management authority, and churchman; a sister, Dr. Helen Herron Taft Manning, former dean and acting president of Bryn Mawr College and now professor of history there; and his four sons.

THE LATE SEN. ROBERT TAFT

Red Fighters Downed B-50, Survivor Says

TOKYO (UP)—1st Lt. John Ernest Roche, only known survivor of an American B-50 lost off the coast of Siberia, said today his plane was shot down by Russian fighter aircraft.

Roche, co-pilot of the plane which crashed in the Sea of Japan Wednesday with a crew of 17 aboard, said the American bomber was at least 40 miles off the Soviet coast when it was attacked.

Moscow charged Thursday that a B-50 flew over the Siberian coast near the big port of Vladivostok Wednesday and opened fire as two Soviet fighters rose to intercept it.

In a strongly-worded note delivered to the U.S. embassy, Moscow said the fighters returned the fire and the bomber disappeared in the direction of the sea.

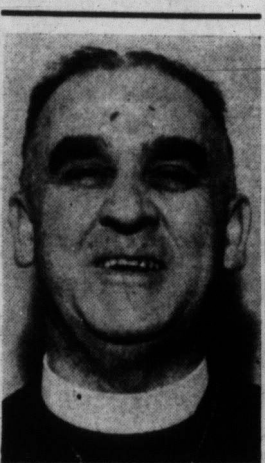

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has information that Soviet vessels picked up a number of survivors from the U.S. B-50 plane shot down by Russian fighters off Siberia, it was disclosed today.

The state department announced it has protested to Moscow against the shooting and asked "an immediate report" from Russian authorities on the condition of the survivors and plans for releasing them.

Eyewitness Accounts Of Bus Tragedy

By CP and BUP

Here are the stories told by two survivors of the bus plunge in Ontario today: Ronald Mortished, 62, of Dublin, prominent representative of Ireland on international organizations:

"I was asleep when the accident happened. Most of the other people in the bus were sleeping too.

"The first thing I remembered was an explosion followed by what looked like a blue flash. Then the bus seemed to be turning over and over.

"At some stage I realized that water was coming into the bus. I was sitting on the left side of the bus right next to the emergency door and I tried to open the door but couldn't.

"A fellow behind me pulled himself up on the luggage rack and shoved his feet through the window. He went through first and I followed him. My head was practically under water before I got out, and right after the bus was full of water.

"I came to the surface and saw other people milling about in the water and shrieking. In the dim light I could see the side of the canal and set out for it. I just made it because I am a poor swimmer and short of breath. "I lost my belongings and my false teeth. But I'm not complaining. I only think of those poor devils who didn't have the luck that I did. It was a grim, nerve-shattering experience."

"I don't think anybody in the bus, except maybe the driver, knows exactly what happened. It all came too fast," passenger George Timley of Toronto, Ont., said.

There was just the crash, and then everybody was screaming. I was dozing, like most other people, in the second seat from the front of the bus. Suddenly we were in the water, and the water was coming in the windows.

The driver kept shouting, "Keep calm, keep calm. Everything will be all right."

The man next to me was lying across my knees. He seemed to be jammed in and he was bleeding pretty badly. I kicked open the window and tried to get him out. I couldn't. He died in there.

I climbed up on the roof of the bus, but it sank in the water around me. Other people were swimming all around. I started after them.

When I reached shore the bus had gone under. I could still see its lights in the water.

BUTLER WARNS

U.K. Won't Support Korea 'Walk-Out'

LONDON (UP)—Britain was on record today with a blunt warning it intends to act on the Korean question only within the framework of the United Nations and expects the United States to do the same.

Acting Prime Minister R. A. Butler drew loud cheers from both government and opposition benches Thursday night—and from all sections of the British press today—when he said Britain does not consider itself bound by a U.S. threat to walk out of the political conference on Korea.

"The Korean campaign has been fought under the auspices of the United Nations and the peace settlement, too, should be made under those same auspices," Butler said. "We have made our position clear to the United States."

More by-partisan applause greeted Butler's further statement that if South Korea reneges the war, "we reserve ourselves to be completely free to take whatever attitude we think right under the circumstances which might prevail at that time."

Although refusing to be pinned down on whether Communist China should be admitted to the UN, the acting prime minister said:

"Our conception of the UN is that it is a family of nations—not an anti-Communist alliance." Dulles told a press conference in Washington Tuesday:

"If after 90 days it seems that the conference is a sham and unproductive and is being availed of by the Communists as a cover for carrying out subversive activities in Korea, we would join with Mr. (Syngman) Rhee in walking out of the political conference."

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada will participate in a political conference on Korea if requested by the United Nations general assembly but will not seek such participation, an external affairs spokesman said today.

He was commenting on a statement Thursday in the British House of Commons by acting prime minister R. A. Butler that the United States, France, Britain, North and South Korea, Australia, India and Turkey should attend the political conference on Korea, which is to be held under the armistice terms.

OTTAWA (CP)—The new reigning beauty of Kelowna Regatta is 17-year-old Linda Ghezzi. Sponsored by Kelowna's Kiwanis Club, Miss Ghezzi was chosen Lady of the Lake Thursday, succeeding Kathy Archibald, last year's winner.

Miss Archibald was recently named "Miss Canada" at a contest at Burlington, Ont.

Steveston Man Burned In Boat Explosion

STEVESTON (BUP)—A fish-boat exploded at a wharf here early today, sending Richard Anderson, 22, to hospital with second degree burns.

The 28-foot Zephyr burst into flames after the explosion, forcing Anderson to leap into the water fully clothed.

He fled to Egypt last April after failing to report for a three-month jail sentence in February for slandering the men who took part in the bomb plot.

He was a major when he crushed the plan of a group of army generals to kill Hitler. The Nazi fuhrer immediately promoted Remer to the rank of major-general in the Berlin Guard battalion.

17 Escape When Ont. Carrier Sinks Canal After Collision

By H. DENT HODGSON

MORRISBURG, Ont. (CP)—Twenty travellers plunged to death in the Williamsburg canal early today after a Colonial Coach Lines express bus ripped into a panel truck parked on the busy Toronto-Montreal highway.

Five hours after the crash on No. 2 Highway, a busy transport artery, a diver recovered 10 of the dead from the canal. Soon after the submerged bus, bearing another 10 dead, was hauled up the 30-foot-high, brush-lined embankment and brought here to a funeral home.

A source at the funeral parlor said there were 20 bodies of crash victims.

10 Victims Still Unidentified

The male victims were identified but it may be some time before the identity of the remainder is established. They were seven women and three men. All were believed to have drowned. No children were aboard.

Reports of the cause of the crash were conflicting. The Colonial Coach Lines in Montreal said in a statement that the truck was stalled on the highway without lights and pointed in the same direction as the bus was travelling—to Montreal.

When the bus plunged into the canal, passengers struggled through windows and doors to save themselves.

Traffic Snarled, Shipping Halted

The accident occurred about 5 a.m. on No. 2 Highway, where the highway, the canal and the Flat Rapids converge. The bus and the panel truck both plunged into the Flat Canal, one of the three canals making up the Williamsburg Canal. In the dim light shortly after dawn, rescuers could see the bus lights burning under water.

The two vehicles plummeted down a 30-foot embankment and sank in 20 feet of water. It was not immediately known if there was anyone besides Roodman in the truck, still in the canal.

The accident snarled highway traffic for miles and shipping was brought to a standstill.

A spokesman for Colonial Coach Lines in Montreal said the bus was one of two heading from Toronto to Montreal. The driver of the second bus was flagged down by a transport driver leaving Iroquois, Ont., and warned there was a truck without lights parked across the road a short distance up the highway. Mrs. Grant Beckstead, who lives across the highway from the spot where the collision occurred, said the noise woke her and her family.

"We didn't think it was so serious at first. There was a west wind and we didn't hear the cries for help. They heard them at the next house, owned by my brother-in-law, Mahlon Beckstead.

"The ones who survived lined up on the bank and were taken to my brother-in-law's house where they gave them tea."

"The bus was on its side under water with the lights still on; that was about half an hour after the accident. My husband went down to help out."

In Ottawa, the transport department said its canal official were informed about 4 a.m. by police and closed the canal to navigation. The ban on shipping will remain in effect until all bodies are accounted for.

Malenkov Needs Army Support Says Report

LONDON (AP)—Reports pressed by reports of a takeover of power by military pro-peace group that he is about to redouble his efforts to get an early round-table between the Russian and Western heads of government.

Bulgarian, this account said, "is expected to disappear from the scene before long, as he was one of Stalin's hand-picked men."

Melville wrote that the three soldiers would strongly favor peace with the West because they believe "Russia is not in a position to risk conflict." He continued:

"Marshal Zhukov personally was a friend of President (then general of the army) Eisenhower at the end of the war, and Ike has said of him: 'This is a man with whom I could do business.'"

'NOTHING LIKE IT ... EVER BEFORE'

5,000 Jam Butchart's Gardens For Symphony Garden Concert

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON
The fourth and final concert of the Victoria Symphony Orchestra Summer series made history last night.

"Nothing like it ever happened here before," said long time Victorians as they surveyed the great throng of people taking up every inch of available space.

It was, in every way, a crowning triumph for all concerned. It was necessary to repeat a portion of the program, as the thousands poured into Butchart Gardens, creating a two-hour road block in spite of careful planning and handling. At the halfway mark there were still 1,500 people trying to get into the gardens.

The official attendance figure of 5,000 probably indicates that evening concerts would be most popular if the venture were tried again another year.

As twilight turned to dark and lights blossomed forth among the trees and flowers, Hans Gruber led his musicians in a well arranged program of familiar classics.

Guest soloist, Carol Murray, who is also first-desk violinist with the orchestra, repeated the final movement of the Wieniawski Second Violin Concerto, for the pleasure of the late arivals. Her performance throughout this highly virtuosic number, showed a degree of accomplishment that not only must be of great value to the orchestra but places her high on the city's list of concert calibre artists.

Considering the relatively short time that has been available for rehearsals, and that this first outdoor series must be considered in the nature of an experiment, success, from every point of view, has been phenomenal. Without doubt it will promote fresh enthusiasm for the winter series and leave the way wide open for more summer concerts next year.

Reds Allege More Truce Violations

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP)—The Communists brought the number of truce violation charges against the United Nations to an even dozen today as observers of both sides took over the buffer zone.

Lumber Mill Near Castlegar Burns With 2,500 Loss

CASTLEGAR (BUP)—The disastrous rash of sawmill fires which has caused almost $1,000,000 damage on the B.C. mainland in the past month, spread today to the interior.

The Kelly Lotze Lumber Mill near here burst into flames Thursday night, and unofficial estimates placed damage at $2,500.

The authorities said the mill had not been in operation since it was closed last year. Forty men fought the fire and the RCMP tried unsuccessfully to learn the cause.

Most of the damage was to piled lumber.

MINERS REJECT OFFERS

GLACE BAY, N.S. (BUP)—A contract continuing present wage rates and hours of work for another year has been rejected by 7,700 Nova Scotia coal miners and union sources said today a strike vote might be taken late next week.

Major Gen. Blackbair M. Bryan, UN delegate on the military armistice commission, said the Reds' latest protests involved alleged flights by Allied planes over the two-and-a-half-mile-wide demilitarized zone Wednesday night and early Thursday morning.

Bryan said all of the Communist complaints were being checked thoroughly, even though they appeared "inconsequential."

He said the meeting with the Reds "went along all right," despite the new complaints.

REPORTS DISCOUNTED

Thus far, the UN has not made any accusations against the Communists.

Fifth Air Force headquarters at Seoul discounted reports that radar on Chodo, an island occupied by the Americans during the Korean war, had picked up evidence of Communist planes flying into North Korea Monday night after the cease-fire became effective.

Peiping radio announced today the Communists had alerted the first group of Allied war prisoners to prepare for the 200-mile journey to Panmunjom and freedom.

The official "voice" of Red China said American, British, French, Turkish and other non-Korean captives had been advised to get ready for the trip. "British" prisoners presumably included the 14 Canadians held by the Reds since they fought with the 1st Commonwealth Division.

Red German Police Grab Gift Food

BERLIN (AP)—Communist police today began mass confiscation of United States gift food parcels which hungry East Germans are bringing back from West Berlin.

The confiscation campaign began at the big rail terminal in Potsdam, southwest of Berlin, where Red police intercepted hundreds of persons returning with the food. The Potsdam station was surrounded by police, and the food bearers were herded into an empty room and stripped of their gifts.

West Berlin police began broadcasting warnings to East Germans to avoid the Potsdam station and try to get home by other routes.

The confiscation began as West Berlin officials announced they had upped their target to 3,000,000 free food parcels for the East Germans. Food stations in the Western sectors braced for a week-end invasion from the East that was expected to boost the first week's distributions past 2,000,000.

Until today, the Red police were reported to have made only periodic searches and confiscations among the thousands returning from the western sectors. The mass raids meant the Communists now apparently mean to get rough to smash the food distribution, which has cost Moscow tremendous loss of face.

Elderly Burnaby Man Suicides

NEW WESTMINSTER (BUP)—The man who died here Thursday under the wheels of a freight car committed suicide.

Henry J. Melling, 73, of Burnaby, threw himself under a B.C. Electric freight car deliberately to end his life. Witnesses on the spot said that he rushed past them and jumped under the wheels of the train.

Engineers were able to halt the car only a yard or so from where the decapitated man lay but it was already too late to save him.

An Emergent Communication of United Service Lodge No. 24 A.F. & A.M. will be held at the Masonic Temple, Piquet Street, on Saturday, August 1 at 1 p.m. for the purpose of attending the funeral of our late brother Fred J. Melling, of the same lodge.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. on Sunday, August 2, at the same place. Burial will be in the same place. Members of sister lodges and visiting brethren in good standing are invited to attend.

By Order of the Worshipful Master.

H. P. RUTTER, P.M. Secretary.

LAUZONE, Que. (BUP)—Transport Minister Lionel Chevrier said today, "I am extremely glad to say that Donald Gordon, president of Canadian National Railways, had turned down a United Kingdom invitation to serve as chairman of the British Transportation Commission."

The minister added that Gordon was doing "an outstanding job" in directing the CNR.

All About the New AIR-CONDITIONED OLDSMOBILE!

FRIGIDAIRE CAR CONDITIONING* BRINGS YOU COOL, REFRESHING DRIVING COMFORT IN HOTTEST WEATHER

Imagine—driving along on the hottest day of the year—enjoying the same cool, fresh comfort as you get in the finest air-conditioned room!

Imagine—parking your car all day in the sun—then driving away with the inside temperature becoming cool and comfortable in minutes!

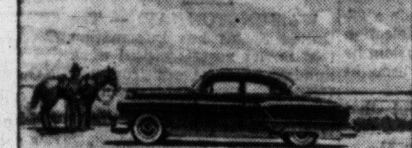

Imagine—driving along on the hottest day—with no discomfort from dust, drafts, bugs, humidity or noise. Oldsmobile can do all this for you with the new Frigidaire Car Conditioner, one of the greatest things that has happened to the motor car in 20 years!

Here's how it works. The Frigidaire Car Conditioner works on the same basic principle as a room conditioner. A compact refrigeration unit, using non-toxic freon, is "tucked away" neatly on the back ledge of the trunk. A rotary compressor, belt driven by the engine, is located under the hood. The condenser is installed in front of the engine radiator. The air distribution system is located inside the body of the car.

Two flat sleeves extend the length of the car body, one on each side—directly above the windows. These sleeves are covered by the headlining except for four sets of louvers and air jets which distribute the cool air into the car. By means of these louvers every passenger receives a draftless well-balanced circulation of air from head to toe. Four other manually operated air jets provide special currents of cooling air for individual passenger needs. They are located on the left and right side, front and rear.

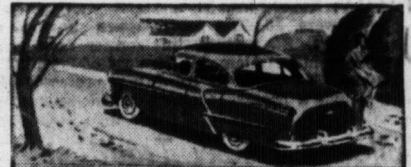

Here's what it does for you. No matter how hot the weather outside, the Frigidaire Car Conditioner keeps your Oldsmobile refreshingly cool and free from high humidity. What's more, the Frigidaire Car Conditioner allows you to drive your Oldsmobile with the windows up giving you freedom from wind, noise and dusty blasts of hot air. Conversation is easier, radio reception is clearer and travelling is much more enjoyable.

No more Heat! You can drive all-day long under a blistering hot sun, yet relax in refreshing coolness. You'll be just as comfortable—just as fresh as you would be in an air-conditioned room.

No more Humidity! Even in sticky, rainy weather, you enjoy a clear, dry atmosphere. All the air is automatically dehumidified, and rapid circulation keeps all the windows free from mistiness.

No more Wind! Think of "wind-ups" protection and comfort on hot, windy, dusty days! You'll breathe clear, cool, filtered air even when travelling on country roads.

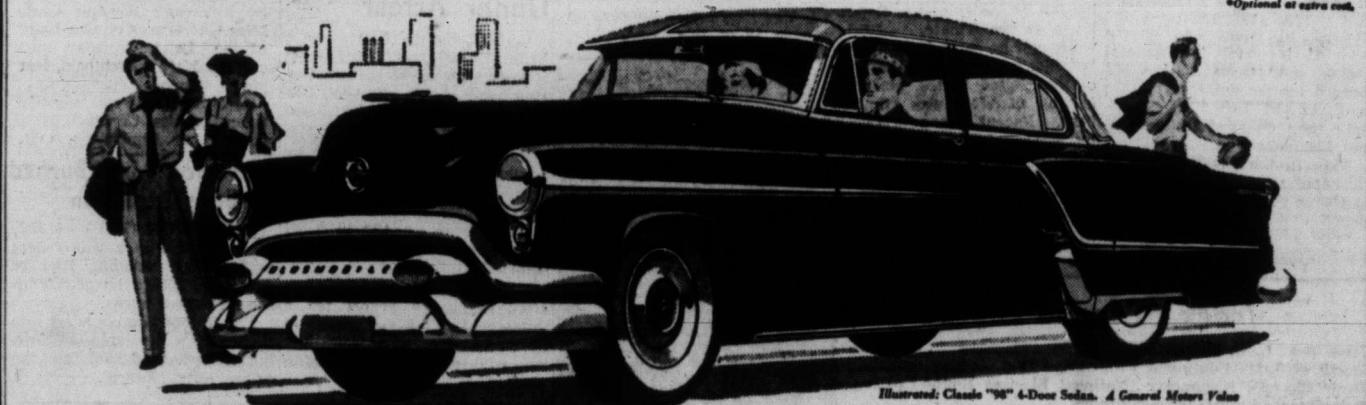

No more Road Noise! With the Frigidaire Car Conditioner, you'll enjoy a completely new sensation of silence in summer driving. Wind and road noises are virtually eliminated. You can hear a whisper, and you'll enjoy your radio much more.

Widens Usefulness of Car. The Frigidaire Car Conditioner makes a tremendous contribution to the all-around utility of the automobile. It increases the efficiency of travelling salesmen and many others who depend upon a motor car in hot weather. And even on days that are not excessively warm, Oldsmobile owners find themselves using the Car Conditioner, because "wind-ups" driving is so much quieter and more comfortable.

Stop in and ask about Oldsmobile's amazing Frigidaire Car Conditioner. This revolutionary new feature is typical of the kind of advancements you've come to expect from Oldsmobile. See us soon... we'll be glad to arrange your date with a "Rocket 8"—the Classic Ninety-Eight or brilliant Super "88" Oldsmobile.

Drew Charges 'Dishonesty'

Tory Leader Demands St. Laurent Repudiate Letter to Armed Forces

By CANADIAN PRESS

Voters got a mixed bag of election talk Thursday from political leaders—a "dishonest" campaign letter, trade and forest resources.

Hon. George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, demanded that Prime Minister St. Laurent repudiate a "dishonest" election letter which he said was sent to members of the armed forces by Duncan K. McTavish of Ottawa, president of the National Liberal Federation.

Speaking at Sarnia, Ont., Mr. Drew quoted the letter as saying that Progressive Conservatives think the government has been extravagant in providing "lavishness and luxury" for servicemen.

He said the letter had references to Progressive Conservative protests against "extravagances" in defense spending and said Liberal policy is to make sure servicemen share in Canada's high standard of living.

Mr. Drew termed the letter "one of the most dishonest communications I have ever read" and said he wants the prime minister to say he knew nothing about it and to message all troops telling them the Liberal party repudiates it.

"The prime minister knows we are not advocating a reduction in national defense. What we are opposed to is the reckless and very dangerous misuse of funds."

Earlier at Ingersoll, Ont., Mr. Drew said Canada under a Progressive Conservative administration would not "hang on to the coattails of Uncle Sam or anyone else."

A Progressive Conservative government would talk "frankly and firmly" to the United States about American trade barriers against Canadian goods and also take action to increase the Commonwealth market for Canadian farm products.

Mr. St. Laurent, also campaigning in Ontario, told a Brantford audience that though there is no "magic formula" for solving the pound-dollar problem, "it is going to be done by hard work, patience and endeavor."

He referred to Mr. Drew's promise that if he became prime minister he would go immediately to Britain to try to untie

DEATH OF TAFT

elected by a 6,616,000 plurality, carrying 39 states and winning an electoral vote of 442 to 89 for his Democratic opponent, Adlai E. Stevenson.

TAFT SENATE FLOOR LEADER

When the 83rd Congress convened at the beginning of 1953, Republican senators chose Taft as their floor leader. That put the man who was President Eisenhower's chief opponent for the nomination in command of efforts to put his legislative program through the Senate.

Taft, long experienced in political maneuvering, was well qualified for that job. As majority leader of the Senate and second most powerful man in the Republican party, he put his thumbprint on almost every segment of foreign and domestic policy. The Ohioan was the moving spirit at most of the meetings Eisenhower held at the White House with legislative leaders.

He never lost a major battle in the new Congress, although at times he had to depend on the votes of Democrats to bring victory for his side.

Taft went against some of his close associates among Senate Republicans to push through the president's nomination of Charles E. Bohlen as ambassador to Russia. He stood firmly behind the Eisenhower nominee although he said he wouldn't have chosen Bohlen if he had been doing the picking.

On June 10, Senator Taft, hobbling on crutches, disclosed he was suffering from a hip ailment and gave up his day-to-day floor leadership for the rest of the session. Senator William Knowland of California, chairman of the Senate Republican policy committee, took over as acting leader.

The Eisenhower victory ended a 20-year tenure of the White House by Democrats.

Taft went to the Senate at the beginning of 1939 during Franklin D. Roosevelt's administration and soon became one of the most outspoken opponents of Roosevelt's policies.

The Second World War started in September of that year and Taft fought all measures that he felt might tend to involve America in it.

He voted against Selective Service in 1940, Lend-Lease, the deal making 50 destroyers available to Britain and repeal of the Neutrality Act.

He also criticized the sending of American troops to Iceland. He contended Iceland was part of the European war zone, and declared:

"When the American people have decided to go to war, I will support that war as vigorously as the President himself, but I deny his right to involve us in war or to send American troops into the war zones of Europe."

In each of those instances, Taft was on the losing side.

LONG FEUD WITH TRUMAN
Taft's opposition to the Democratic program continued through the Truman administration. His feud with Truman came to white heat in 1946 when Truman denounced by name in a veto message a Taft amendment to a price control act. It went on all the rest of the time Truman was in the White House.

THE TAFT-HARTLEY LAW
One of the sharpest disagreements between Truman and Taft was over the highly controversial Taft-Hartley Law curbing the activities of labor unions. This was passed in 1947 by a Republican-controlled Congress over the President's sharply-worded veto.

This law hardened U.S. policy toward labor unions for the first time after the Wagner Act was passed in 1935 with its liberal labor provisions. It made officials of organized labor strongly antagonistic to Senator Taft.

Taft sponsored the law with Rep. Fred A. Hartley, Jr. (R-N.J.).

It banned the closed shop, under which non-unionists may not be hired, but permitted the union shop with certain restrictions. In a union shop, non-unionists may be hired but later must join.

During the Democratic regime the Ohioan was referred to by opponents as an isolationist, but he called such a designation a smear and said it was applied to hush criticism of administration decisions.

His definition of what a foreign policy should be was this: "The principal purpose of the foreign policy of the United States is to maintain the liberty of our people."

Most Rev. L. R. Sherman Dies at 66

BRANDON (CP)—Most Rev. Louis Ralph Sherman of Winnipeg, archbishop of Rupert's Land, died in hospital here today after a brief illness.

The 66-year-old Anglican Church leader was stricken with a brain hemorrhage Tuesday while vacationing at Clear Lake, Man., and taken to Brandon General Hospital.

As archbishop of the metropolitan see of Rupert's Land since his enthronement in 1943, he was in charge of an area covering 28,000 square miles and embracing the three Prairie provinces and part of western Ontario. It extends as far north as the Arctic Circle and includes 10 dioceses.

A broad-shouldered, vigorous six-footer, Archbishop Sherman was a fearless preacher and would, it was said, "fight to the last ditch for any cause he believed was right."

For years, he strongly advocated a fully self-supported Canadian church. Before an Anglican audience of 10,000 persons at the 1934 general synod service of witness in Montreal, he begged his brother bishops to "sign on the dotted line" with him that night to relinquish monetary grants coming from England.

Although his plan met considerable opposition, within a decade he saw it successfully adopted without a dissenting voice.

He is survived by his widow and three children, Louis Ralph, Jr., of Winnipeg, Barbara Ann and Joan Patricia. An elder son, Lieut. Lawrence Sherman, was killed in action with the Canadian Army in Italy in May, 1943.

Hohenzollern Jewels Stolen

HECHINGEN, Germany (UPI)—Thieves broke into the museum of the ancient Hohenzollern Castle here during the night and stole many of the Prussian crown jewels.

Among the missing items were the Hohenzollern marshal's staff, royal robes, a jeweled snuff box and several items of jewelry.

The Hohenzollern jewels belonged exclusively to the ancient Prussian royal family and were the symbols of the Prussian royalty.

The German Kaiser's crown and the Kaiser's jewels were not involved since they are kept in a special museum in Nuremberg. The Hohenzollern Castle here became a Hohenzollern shrine last year following the burial of the eldest son of the late Kaiser here. The remains of Frederick the Great and his father, Wilhelm I, later were placed in marble tombs in the castle.

Police admitted they were puzzled by the fact the jewel-studded Prussian crown, in the same room with other jewel-encrusted relics, was not disturbed.

The Shining Promises

HAVING PROMISED A HALF-billion-dollar tax reduction which is mathematically impossible, Mr. Drew proceeds to distribute it generously among the Canadian people. He will cut income taxes by $400 millions, with increased exemptions for married and single people. That will leave a round hundred millions for a cut in sales taxes. The only thing wrong with this promise is that, under Mr. Drew's policy, there could be no savings in government expenditures to distribute in tax reductions. On the contrary, there would be a large tax increase or a large deficit.

It should be unnecessary to point out, at this late stage in the campaign, that Mr. Drew's proposed cut of half a billion dollars in the national budget was based, to the extent of three-fifths, on a fallacy. Of this total amount he proposed to cut the budget $300 millions by eliminating the Government's current revenue surplus, or "over-taxation." Though there was a surplus of only $24 millions last year and there probably will be a deficit this year, Conservative candidates are still denouncing the non-existent surplus and promising to hand it back to the taxpayers.

If Mr. Drew is going to cut total taxes by $500 millions, as he promises, he must cut existing expenditures by that full amount. If, indeed, the budget already is getting out of balance, as seems likely, a tax cut of that size would involve still larger economies or else an unthinkable deficit.

How does Mr. Drew propose to cut expenditures by at least half a billion? He does not say. No service is to be reduced, no measures of social security touched. We are asked to believe that this full amount can be saved by the elimination of waste.

All right, even assuming that this can be done where does that leave Mr. Drew's promise? As against a saving of half a billion he proposes new expenditures, like health insurance, huge subsidies to farmers and many other things that would total a billion dollars at the very least. The budget then rises by a net amount of half a billion, maybe much more. Either that amount will be covered by heavy new taxes or by deficits and borrowing which could not continue long without ruinous results.

Undoubtedly Canadian taxes can and will be reduced, barring some new international crisis, as the defense program reaches its targets. Starting July 1 taxes were reduced substantially. But there is a limit on such reductions so long as the nation demands present government services and a reasonable measure of defense.

The latest official figures show the government suffering a deficit between revenue and expenditure in June, the month when normally it accumulates a large surplus against the heavy bills of later months. At this rate the deficit for the whole year could be substantial and confront the government with a serious budgetary problem by next spring.

Can such problems be left safely in the hands of an opposition party which, desperate for votes, cynically misrepresents the actual figures and distributes huge tax reductions existing only in its imagination?

Aid or Trade

THE ANATOMY OF THE world's dollar problem can be seen at a glance in two figures compiled at Washington. Since the end of the war the United States has loaned or given $38 billions to foreign nations. In the same period the United States has exported $34 billions more than it has imported.

These two figures almost balance, and not by accident. When the United States exports more than it imports it creates a dollar shortage of the same dimensions in the world at large. By gifts and loans it has supplied the world with the dollars that the world could not earn by selling in the American market.

Since the aid has somewhat exceeded the export surplus, the world as a whole has increased its supply of dollars by that amount. Otherwise the dollar shortage would have become an economic disaster—not alone for Europe but also for the exporters of the United States, who would have lost their foreign markets.

It seems clear now from the statements of the late Sen. Taft and other Congressional leaders, both Republican and Democratic, that the long period of American foreign gifts is near its end. Mr. Taft said there would never be another foreign aid bill after the passage of the greatly reduced program now before Congress.

Europe, therefore, must prepare to live, within a year or two, on the dollars it can actually earn by selling to the United States and other dollar countries.

In recent months the United States has actually balanced its trade, has imported as much as it exported and thus temporarily cured the dollar shortage. It is unlikely, however, that this balance will continue long under existing American tariff policies. If American imports fall off, even fractionally, or if Europe's exports to America decline, a new crisis could quickly develop. There will be no permanent cure until the United States is prepared, as a permanent policy, to import as much as it exports, or more, since it is a creditor nation and its debtors can repay only in goods and services.

It has taken the American people a long time to learn this simple and obvious fact of economics, which has been resisted for several decades. But they seem to be learning at last. A recent Gallup poll shows 30 per cent of the public in favor of reduced tariffs as against 13 per cent who would raise them and 21 per cent who would leave them unchanged.

This is a drastic change in opinion in a country traditionally protectionist. It offers good grounds for hope for President Eisenhower's policy of encouraging imports, and for his postponed but inevitable struggle with the protectionists of his own party.

Canada, of course, is not immediately involved in the dollar shortage affecting most of the world. It has been steadily accumulating American dollars, thanks mainly to its huge exports into the American market, a market which Canadian Conservatives, Socialists and Social Crediters are never tired of condemning as unprofitable and dangerous.

From the Ground Up

THE OCCASIONAL ATTACKS to which the United Nations organization is subjected these days indicates the disappointment of a few at the limited success the global effort has enjoyed.

But failure to achieve perfection is no real reason for abandoning this in many ways before its times effort. The United Nations cannot be greater than the individuals and peoples who support it. But despite its failures and frustrations in some directions, it stands today the only practicable hope of the nations of the world for a peaceful and ordered global community.

Its successes in many fields have been unprecedented. In assistance to backward countries, provision of relief, encouragement of agricultural improvements, promotion of better health and numerous other activities the United Nations sub-committees' achievements have been highly worthwhile.

In the major undertaking of world peace the end has not yet been attained, for reasons which are well-known to all members of the reading public who have followed the meetings of the United Nations Security Council and Assembly.

But every effort for sound peace is itself a small victory. And in taking the field against aggression, as it did in the case of Korea, the United Nations set a precedent and established a principle that will have a vital effect on the course of world history.

With these things in mind, the United Nations Association in Canada is seeking support in a most important quarter—among the youth of this country. To give youth a proper appreciation of what is being done, a summer seminar will be held at the University of British Columbia in August, open to any high school student at a nominal fee for the week's lectures, lodging and entertainment.

These students, it is hoped, will return to spread the information among their classmates next term, and lay a foundation for the educated public opinion which is the chief support of the United Nations. The effort is to be commended, and should receive the support of every community parents' group, organization or individual able to facilitate the attendance of a student.

As former UN Secretary-General Trygve Lie has said: "The United Nations is not something apart from peoples and governments, something which, of itself, will realize our wishes. We the peoples of the world and our respective governments are the United Nations. The organization is the instrument of our will and our intelligence."

"If we give it every possible support, we can in our lifetime build firmly for a world order of universal peace and lasting security."

There's No Question Here If We Know Uncle

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

ON this day, many long, short, sad, happy, exciting and tedious years ago, I was born in Ottawa. (At about four in the morning, if you want to know.) I should like to have most of those last years back again. But they would not include a visit to Ottawa in July. Or in August either. (Why do men choose such climates for capital cities? Washington is as bad, or worse.) I don't think any good fairies attended my birth, or bad fairies either. But any fairies who were there were certainly sweating fairies.

GROW OLD ALONG WITH ME

BIRTHDAYS have begun to make me melancholy, and fill me with thoughts of my own senility. I hope that when I grow senile, it will be in some pleasant way, so that I am almost sure for being a perfect dear in old age. You can't just do it all of a sudden, after being a secret or open beast all your life. Not that all cantankerous old braves were always that way, even in private. But you follow me.)

The other day a friend was telling me about her mother, now 88, who is more of a perfect dear than ever she was, after a long life of being a perfect dear. (I think one has to prepare in advance for being a perfect dear in one's senility. You can't just do it all of a sudden, after being a secret or open beast all your life. Not that all cantankerous old braves were always that way, even in private. But you follow me.)

WELL, this old lady has only two major foibles at present. In theory they sound like quite minor foibles, but she carries them to great excess. One of them is helping in the garden, which consists of weeding. And what weeding! The way she roots up all the good stuff, leaving the bad stuff, you'd think she was either a so-called gardener who comes in for half a day each week, or else a week-end guest who wants to carry his own weight around the old homestead. And she is at it for hours each day, unless watched. In two days she could turn a whole acre into a desert.

HER other hobby is making tea-cosies. No harm in that, you'll say. Certainly not. Though if you were one of her friends or relations, you might be mildly embarrassed at receiving a fresh tea-cosy every three or four weeks over a period of years. And at the thought of getting a dozen a year in a future that may last for another ten years or so.

But the interesting thing is that no matter what she starts out to make, even when following a pattern, it always turns out to be a tea-cosy by the end of the day. Sometimes, if it is a simple thing like a cushion cover, it has begun to turn into a tea-cosy within ten minutes.

As Our Readers See It

CHARGES DISCRIMINATION

Our honorable prime minister was not slow to take advantage of the abolition of the means test on old age pensions some 18 months ago.

By what God-given right does he dare to continue to deny this same privilege to old veterans on W.V.A., which only the misguided logic of this very honorable gentleman and his cabinet can interpret as other than an old age pension for veterans?

Why penalize old veterans and their dependents and veterans' widows who have been existing for years on a disgracefully inadequate allowance which has always lagged far behind the increased cost of living?

Discrimination in a democracy is a foul crime, but when directed against Canadian citizens who have literally sweated blood for their country, it constitutes the most heinous miscarriage of justice in Canada's history.

Think it over, Canada, before Aug. 10, and let your conscience be your guide. Remember that where injustice exists no one can say who the next victims will be.

JAMES L. MORRIS,
Port Moody, B.C.

FAR CRY

Provincial Secretary Wesley Black stated at Sooke "British Columbians who recently showed preference to have Social Credit govern their affairs should not change to another party in the federal election."

This is a far cry from their efforts to avoid the "federal issue" in every respect possible when asked whether or not the candidates agreed with the theories of Douglas Social Credit as advocated by the Social leaders.

For a party of "Christian principles" less hedging and more forthright honesty on the part of candidates would back up those so-called "principles" and be more convincing to the people.

Candidate Skillings is not yet "converted" but in a few months he hopes to be. I venture to say that as a life insurance man with monetary experience the further he gets into the mess of theory in Social Credit the more he will wish he had not climbed on the bandwagon.

The Socials have absolutely no chance of electing a government at Ottawa in this election.

FRANK H. PARTRIDGE,
151 Beach Drive.

FAIR PLAY

In your Monday's issue, you had a correspondent, who signed himself "Fair Play," and made an appeal for that desirable virtue, with which all men of goodwill will be in accord.

I always thought that a newspaper catered to all the citizens, not to just those of one particular creed, political or otherwise, and surely it must have occurred to you that not all your readers belong to the now discarded Liberal party in B.C.

Is it fair, Mr. Editor, to continually criticize the Socials, before they have even had a chance to show what they could do. If we believe in British fair play, we should give every dog his chance, and not kick him around before he is given time to prove his mettle.

I well recall when the first Labor government was formed in Great Britain, it was a minority government, but both the Liberal and Conservative leaders gave it every support and encouragement, and it was never voted out of office. How different to the contemptible action of the Hodges, Straith and Proudfoot "proven team," of which you used to speak so highly, but with which the voters have now dealt, in no uncertain terms.

Let us take a hypothetical case, perhaps in 15 or 20 years a CCF government may be elected. I for one do not like their policies, but I am prepared, in such an event to give them a chance and treat them with fairness.

You will say I am trying to give you a lecture, which however is not my intention, but I do appeal for fair play, not only for the Socials but for all parties.

Shared His Tent With Tensing

After reading the series of articles by Tensing there is left, for the uninformed, a feeling of distaste and pettiness. Whether it be with regard to the supposed ungenerous treatment of the Sherpas by the British, or to the subtle innuendos and quibbling by Tensing with regard to his comrades, or the management of the expedition, this feeling of criticism is unjust and misplaced; unfair to Tensing and unfair to the British expedition.

I have had the honor of knowing Tensing personally for many years, and he has been my companion on high mountains. I have shared a pup tent with him, and listened to his tales of adventure with great climbers. I can say with conviction that much in your articles is not Tensing speaking.

Tensing speaks a Nepali dialect. He also has a little broken English, and broken Hindustani. The articles are translations of a translation; and from an account gained by subtle leading questions, much has been perverted, I suggest, to accord with the political leanings or nationalist tendencies of the translator.

Tensing's dominant characteristic is one of nobility of character; simple, trusting, generous and courageous. He is a true inhabitant of Shangri La. He is incapable of pettiness, and yet there is much pettiness in this account.

I could take many examples and tear them to pieces, at the risk of using too much of your space, but I believe that they are already obvious to any fair-minded reader.

One example I may give. Tensing uses the word "discrimination"—a word he does not know—in referring to the sharing of tents. There were 120 porters on the expedition, and they slept in tents together, while the British shared their own tents. The porters would have been unhappy and embarrassed if it had been otherwise.

Tensing had a tent to himself; a mark of respect to the leader of the Sherpas. When it was necessary to share a tent with a British climber he did so, as we all know; and as he has done long ago with me. Who used the word "discrimination," and why? Not Tensing.

One might just as well suggest that all the privates in an army share tents ties, and is it not true of all political faiths and creeds?

"So many faiths, so many creeds. So many paths that cross and wind. When what this old world really needs, is just the art of being kind."

Are you really fair, or just stubborn, when you boost the very inexperienced Mr. Fairley, and write down Waldo Skillings, when you know well, or should do, that Waldo, with his many years of business life and civic office, is head and shoulders above his Liberal opponent, a beginner, and a kindergarten political tyro.

Please tell your readers this or is the Times sold, body and soul, to the federal Liberal party, whose flag, you are afraid, will be lower than half-mast on August 10.

WALTER HILEY.

(Editor's Note: Like Correspondent Hiley, The Times has its political convictions, and like him, it exercises the right of making them known.)

AFFAIRS OF MEN

Might I have space for just a line or two in reference to the 1,500-word pamphlet which appeared in your issue of July 28. One sentence in this tract reads: "It is God who ruleth the affairs of men"—and then this writer says—"The national governments need to be lifted from the corruption and wickedness to which they have fallen in this generation."

And it is "God" who ruleth the affairs of man. Could anything be added to the absurdity of some brands of thinking?

L. J. PEPPER.

4010 Grange Road.

SECOND CHOICES

A letter by Frank Partridge on June 10, entitled "Aftermath," if true, is a rank injustice to any candidate who ran for office in our last provincial election, seeking to represent the people of his province.

This is more so indeed when the men or women are natives of their own province and Canada. Mr. Partridge states "that the Friday and Saturday before election on the Tuesday, 6,000 postcards were delivered to Oak Bay electors in which Dean Finlayson was named a carpet bagger."

May I say Mr. Gibbs does not need to feel puffed up because if we had not had that wicked alternating voting system Mr. Gibbs would never have got in. I for one don't consider he did. The same applied to others who crawled in with a few votes.

What a pity a good independent did not get nominated in Oak Bay, possibly then the Conservatives and CCFers would not have cast their second votes to their supposed enemies, the Liberals.

If the alternate vote is not scrapped before another election I for one will not vote again, and there are others.

MRS. ADDIE MARSHALL.

EASY MONEY

The advocates of "print more money to cover the surpluses of goods produced" should get busy on some new sewer by-laws to cover the future results of their policy.

I know a great number of people who, if they had more money to help buy the surplus beer that can be produced would be only too glad to oblige.

The problem today as it applies to us wage earners is that although we have enough to purchase the essentials of life we haven't enough to buy that good time the "Jones" are having next door.

Shed a tear of pity for us, you pioneers who carved out this modern world with bare hands and a 16-hour day.

And Mr. Retired and Mr. Pensioner, when you have stopped sobbing for us please vote in the new paper dollars and we will promise to make your present 25 cent dollar worth a dime.

We are entitled to lots of leisure dollars you know.

LESLIE C. WRIGHT.

Saanichton.

with the officers. There would not be enough officers to go round and no one would be happy.

For a long time the British have felt that owing to the assistance they have received from the Sherpas on their numerous expeditions, it would be appropriate if one of them should reach the summit of Everest. Tensing is probably the only Sherpa with the character and ability to make a voluntary attempt. He was therefore selected by Colonel Hunt.

But let no one suppose that there was no British climber other than Hillary equally capable of doing so. To those who supported them, who unselfishly gave of their best to establish the high camp so that Hillary and Tensing might be fit for the attempt; who did not carp and quibble that theirs was not to be the honor, but generously backed the effort of their Sherpa comrade, must go equal credit.

Here was generosity and nobility. And with equal generosity they would know that the real author of your articles, who seeks to belittle his comrades and magnify himself, is not Tensing.

My heart goes out to Tensing, simple, modest and unselfish; lost in a world he does not know, besieged by reporters who twist his words for other aims, giving his signature to articles he cannot read, and which belittle the great joint achievement by little adept smears. Tensing would not do that.

MILES SMEETON.

SOOTHING

We need more time for reading, relaxing and singing in the bath. Present-day bath methods and manners are such as to take away from the physical and spiritual comforts of the lazy, timeless, restful immersion of our bodies in tubs of warm water.

—Dr. Herbert E. Alden, Georgia University.

Philosophy of Gazing

SINCE Dr. Clifford Carl carried his Saturday Times editorial page feature on the evolution of the salmon up to the hatching of young Klutch, I've been learning things about stream and pond life I've wanted to know.

Cliff writes so well the reader might be stretched out on the bank, peering into the depths and watching what goes on down there. Better than that—Carl identifies the forms you see, animal and vegetable, so that you finish his weekly instalment that much better informed than when you started.

Stott

For sheer entertainment, it's good reading. Beyond that, it has given me a certain justification for a practice I hadn't considered defensible.

JUST STAREING

Before the busy traffic of the day stirs the bottom, a person can lie on his diving board at the lake and see all manner of things transpiring in the water below. Probably my greatest achievement in a small list of minor accomplishments is lying on the diving board in the morning sun gazing into the waters of the lake. Until Cliff progressed with his series, I had done it a little guiltily, figuring most people would think I was just wasting time in an attitude of transparent laziness.

Cliff has justified this practice. Now, when they need kindling at the shack, when the gas lamp needs filling, when piles of arbutus leaves should be swept from the roof and when a small boy wants someone to play ball, I have good and sufficient reason to ignore these chores and intrusions.

"What are you doing?" they yell to me from the back stoop, "Just loafing?"

"Nope," I reply, giving the complete response which brooks no interruption, "I'm studying."

And in a way, I am studying. I'm watching the sinuous grace of a catfish, which is a hideous creature but wonderfully sinuous in its slow swimming above the mud. I've seen the waving of bullheads' frill fins and the pulsing of the gill coverings. I've been engrossed in the slow stalking of a crawfish, which looks fierce and is probably the most timid of all living things. I've marvelled at the quick, erratic journeys of "skaters," whose movements are like my thoughts, darting here and there about the surface and never seeming to reach a destination.

I can't bring to my waterlife study the erudition of Cliff Carl, and probably couldn't set it on paper as lucidly as he does even if I had the knowledge. But I most certainly can lie belly down on a springboard just above the surface as well as anyone I know. That comes from a native ability I'll admit with due modesty and hours of practice.

ABILITY AND PRACTICE

That is the secret of springboard work—a certain native ability and hours of practice. There are young people who aspire to tricks on a board. I've known young men who do double-twisting somersaults, multiple Molibergs, cut-away and back-dives with variations. They are responding, no doubt, to a certain challenging spirit. But in their efforts, all is vanity. Try as they might they can't beat the law of gravity.

In time these young men will appreciate their follies. Increasing waistlines and stiffening knees will persuade them to more contemplative pursuits. With luck they may reach a certain nirvana, an impersonal beatitude, without forsaking the springboard.

They may know, then, the detached and sublime enjoyment of resting on the board in the approved position and gazing into the water. They may follow, with the interest of comparison, the pond and stream life described by Dr. Carl and the forms which inhabit the element below them.

It is a pleasing and not unprofitable practice to which I hope to discipline myself during the next two weeks at the lake. It produces any concepts of importance or interest; I'll tell you about them on my return.

FROM OTTAWA

Mike of the Hustings

ONE of the most effective campaigners on the hustings for the Liberal cause, surprisingly, is Hon. Lester Bowles Pearson, Canada's secretary of state for external affairs.

Mackie

Pearson, a polished diplomat at home in the world's highest councils. But on the hustings there is a different Pearson, a hustling vote-getter capable of carrying the Liberal banner into the backyard of strong Tory candidates, and emerging from the political melee as the man better known as "Mike."

The soft-spoken Mr. Pearson does not show up to advantage on platforms of large political rallies where orators are in their element. Mike Pearson is no orator.

But turn him loose on a junket through the side roads, farm fields and industrial areas of this key province in the federal election and he is political dynamite.

As the election campaign progresses it becomes increasingly apparent that central Canada will provide the final showdown between the two old-line parties. It is in Ontario and Quebec that the issue will be decided. How they vote will decide in the final analysis the government Canada will have in the next four years.

Accordingly the leaders of the major political parties have converged on the central provinces for the final weeks of the campaign. Mr. Pearson was among those who moved into Ontario early. He got off to a slow start but soon began to barnstorm in a manner that amazed reporters travelling with him or covering his meetings.

This was a different side to the polite, reserved diplomat-turned-politician, whom they were accustomed to witnessing in action in parliament or at the UN assembly. Mike Pearson was obviously enjoying his whirl at politicking on the hustings and wherever he went he aroused a friendly reaction, even in ridings known to be hostile to the Liberal administration.

Pearson the politician was at his best in small gatherings where he could get close to his audiences. He appeared to relish particularly talking to small rural crowds, or meetings in small towns. And at the close of the speech—which he always kept short—he never forgot to go to the back of the hall and shake hands with those who had turned out to hear him.

Sleeves rolled up in the hot, humid weather, hair askew, eyes sparkling and a boyish grin on his face as he dealt with political opponents, Mike Pearson's personality appeals even to ardent Conservatives. They may not change their minds if they are dyed-in-the-wool Ontario Tories, but they left the Pearson meetings liking him and reluctantly agreeing that he has made pertinent points in many of his arguments.

Rapidly, as the campaign progressed in Ontario Mr. Pearson became a star attraction. His speeches included 20 minutes of explanation of what goes on behind the international scenes. He simplified high-level diplomacy, interpreted it for the average man so that farmers, their wives and the townspeople, were listening in attentive silence.

But throughout his speeches he tossed in lighter material that aroused many an appropriate chuckle. His delight at scoring a quip at the expense of the opposition was infectious and an enjoyable change for voters who have been subjected to many dull and turgid election speeches in this campaign.

Mike Pearson traveled by a hit or miss method. He has no special railway car, no elaborate schedules for speeches laid out weeks ahead, such as preceded the movements across the country of Prime Minister L. S. St. Laurent and Hon. George Drew, leader of the Progressive Conservatives.

The secretary of state has been travelling Ontario largely by automobile. He did not always seem to know where he would find shelter for the night. On one occasion he hitchhiked a ride with a reporter so that he could make connections that would get him to New York for the UN discussions preceding the Korean armistice.

Making friends comes easy to Mike Pearson, and there were always friends around, new or old, to help him in a pinch as he waged his campaign at a fast pace.

Pat Crowley Retains Name

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—A new star named Pat Crowley won an election today that featured cheesecake campaign photos and balloons—also she could keep her boyish name.

Miss Crowley is a bright-eyed, 19-year-old pixie from Scranton, Pa., who used to be a television actress in New York. Paramount is grooming her for big things, as they say in the land of sun-glasses and palm trees.

But the studio, via Hollywood logic, figured her name sounded like she was a he.

"Anybody can look at me and see I'm not a boy," pouted Pat.

But the mighty corporation, for the first time in studio history, selected a batch of first and last names. These were listed on a ballot that read, "Memo to all Paramount employees—the management seeks a new name for Pat Crowley and requests your help in making a selection."

There followed a list of names that were supposed to sound feminine. These included Eugenia Boydell, Beryl Barlow, Hylda Brady, Valery Carrick, Beverly Curran, Hartley Boydell, Rosalyn Allan and other such chokers.

Miss Crowley campaigned for her own name. She asked the still photo department to pose her for cheesecake, and she sent the pictures to her bosses to prove she wasn't a boy.

Paramount workers rallied around Pat. They cast 185 write-in votes for—the name of a Pat Crowley.

"My face is the map of Ireland, and my name fits it," beamed Pat.

Miss Crowley cried in agony at the preview of her first starring film, "Forever Red Garters" and "Money From Home." But Pat doesn't plan to be a star long under any name.

"I want to get married," she explained, "I don't want to act forever."

WEATHER SYNOPSIS

VICTORIA'S SUNSHINE RECORD TO DATE, 1953—12154 HOURS

SYNOPSIS—Weather conditions are quite settled over the Pacific Ocean and as a result the week-end weather will be on the pleasant side in all parts of the province. Cool air which has moved over B.C. from the west will hold temperatures to near seasonal normal Saturday.

ISLAND DIGEST

LADYSMITH — Nanaimo Flying Club and Ladysmith Kinsmen Club will hold a joint air carnival at Cassidy Airport Aug. 16, from 1:30 to 5 p.m.

Committee in charge includes Kinsmen Jim Moore, Danny McKenzie and J. D. Rogers, and Flying Club members Bill Power, Harry McCracken and H. B. Matthews.

DUNCAN—A plebiscite will be held in conjunction with the municipal election in December for North Cowichan residents to decide for or against the proposed secession of Chemainus from North Cowichan municipality.

DUNCAN—Funeral services were held here today for Mrs. Ida Maud Harris, native of Bonaville, Nfld., who had lived in Duncan for the last 40 years. She died Wednesday in King's Daughters' Hospital.

Surviving are a son, Melvin, and a daughter, Viola, in Duncan, and a brother and sister in Newfoundland.

PORT ALBERNI — Diane Sommerville, 16, lifeguard at the city swimming pool, spent part of her day off Wednesday saving 10-year-old Bobby Cartwright from drowning at Smith's Landing.

A grade 12 high school student and holder of swimming and life-saving badges, she helped the youngster when he ran into difficulties swimming from a raft to shore.

CAMPBELL RIVER—Village commissioners decided this week not to renew their lease of the wharf and fishermen's floats from the federal government since the new agreement demands 50 per cent of gross revenue, yet present revenue barely covers operating costs.

Against the advice of Tom Morrison, Department of Transport, Victoria, commissioners decided not to collect dockage fees when Roy Mulholland, custodian, reported the fees were causing cruising yachtsmen to by-pass the village.

COURTENAY — A technicality is holding up an enabling act that would permit the District 71 school board to sell debentures for $234,000, the secretary reported to the board this week.

The money is badly needed for reconstruction projects in the school system, he said.

Operators Seek More Police Aid In Timmins

TIMMINS, Ont. (UP)—Officials of the strike-bound Brulair Reef Mines complained today that a 25-man provincial police force was inadequate to handle the situation here and called for reinforcements.

They said the officers detailed to guarantee safe passage to non-striking employees going into the mine were too few because of the "cat and mouse" tactics of the union.

Early in the strike 40 men were escorted through the 10-man picket line, officials said, but the next day more than 1,000 men blocked all three roads leading to the mine. The following morning only a few men were on the picket lines again.

During the strike 28 employees were beaten and 10 of them thrown into cars and carted from the property. The company then armed its employees. Police later took the guns away from them.

The company claimed that if incoming employees skipped through thin picket lines, 25 constables would be inadequate to prevent further raids on the mine.

REGATTA BROADCAST A 25-minute radio broadcast describing opening ceremonies of the Kelowna Regatta will be carried over Vancouver station CBU, starting at 6:05 Saturday evening.

PRAIRIE ROUND-UP

U.S. Party Conquers Mt. Robson, First to Reach Peak in 14 Years

JASPER, Alta. (CP)—The first successful climb in 14 years to the summit of Mount Robson, the highest peak in the Canadian Rockies, was reported Thursday.

Five young men from the United States scaled the summit of the 12,972-foot peak Tuesday. The mountain is near the Alberta-British Columbia boundary, 250 miles west of Edmonton.

The five were Don Claunch, Seattle; Jon Cardey, Studio City, Calif.; Jack Lanser, Brooklyn, N.Y.; Derritt Bratt, Inglewood, Calif.; and Norman Sanders, Glendale, Calif.

Four camps were made, the highest at 11,500 feet. The final climb of nearly 1,500 feet was made in six hours despite soft snow fields on glaciers. This forced them to climb in knee-deep snow.

CANADA BECKONS EDMONTON (CP)—Fear of the future prompts Europeans to look to Canada for new homes and security, a top union official said Thursday.

Carl Berg of Edmonton, vice-president and international representative of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, said he found a desire to come to Canada in all countries he visited while touring Europe.

Mr. Berg was the union's representative at the Coronation and a delegate to the International Labor Organization conference of Free Trade Unions at Stockholm.

RCAP CRASH KILLS TWO PENHOLD, Alta. (CP)—Two men were killed Thursday in the crash of a Harvard training plane near this town, 100 miles south of Edmonton.

An RCAF instructor and an RAF student were killed when their plane from the RCAF station at Penhold crashed on the farm of Bruce McGee, 19 miles southwest of the station, while on a routine flight.

Names of the victims were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

The crash is being investigated.

78 POLIO CASES IN ALBERTA EDMONTON (CP)—Two cases of polio reported in Calgary Thursday brought to 78 the number of known cases reported to the Alberta health department. There have been three deaths.

The southern part of the province reports the majority of the polio cases. Calgary and the surrounding area account for 32 and the Lethbridge area 11.

Edmonton city has recorded a known 12 cases so far in 1953. There have been two cases in the Peace River Block, one at Fort Vermilion and another at Fort Chipewyan.

O'Brien on Plane Bound For Brazil

HONG KONG (Reuters)—Observers said that Michael Patrick O'Brien, the man without a country, Thursday was put aboard an airliner for Brazil by Hong Kong police officers.

O'Brien had asked United Nations refugee officials to get him permission to go to Brazil as he shuttled back and forth between Portuguese Macao and Hong Kong for 11 months on a ferry boat.

He stepped on land Thursday—and vanished.

But Hong Kong police announced Thursday morning that O'Brien, who vainly claimed at one time to be a United States citizen, had left the colony. They gave no details of how O'Brien left, nor his destination.

O'Brien got stuck in the ferry boat Lee Hong while travelling from Shanghai, in Communist China. Immigration officers refused him permission to land and he was forced to remain aboard while friends helped him.

O'Brien's wife left for Brazil several months ago.

One-Inch Hailstones Crush Alberta Wheat

RED DEER, Alta. (BUP)—Destructive hailstorms raked much of central Alberta Thursday night, battering rich grain crops to the ground.

Crops near Penhold, west of here, were crushed by hailstones one inch in diameter.

An estimated 550,000 acres of grain in Alberta already have been destroyed this year by similar hailstorms, which have been described as the worst in a decade.

EAR FULL OF TOES
 LONG BEACH, Calif. (UP)—A jury acquitted auto worker Adam Thiele of drunk driving charges when it learned he had been driving with his ears full of toes.

Thiele explained he couldn't drive straight along the highway because his small son and a neighbor boy in the back seat of his car were tickling his ears with their toes.

A Victoria man was among five RCAF airmen taken into custody on charges of stealing public funds from the air force station at Lachine, Que.

He is LAC C. T. Howard, aged 30, a member No. 426 Squadron at Lachine.

The RCAF said all five were taken into custody Friday and Saturday of last week. The date of the court martial has not been announced. It is said about $4,500 had been misappropriated and that a large part of the money had been recovered.

Mundt Calls For Aid Cut To Britain

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Karl Mundt, Rep., S.D., today denounced what he termed new “blood traffic” by British traders with Red China, and called again for a penalty cut in foreign aid to Britain.

Mundt pointed to an announcement from London Wednesday that Britain has authorized immediate export to China of nearly $10,000,000 worth of non-strategic goods. The announcement came from an official British trade group, which said British businessmen want to ship the Reds an equal value of goods on the borderline of being strategic for war purposes. The British board of trade declined comment on the announcement.

Mundt said he plans to call the London announcement to the attention of the U.S. state department and the mutual security agency.

Senator Joseph McCarthy, Rep., Wis., another bitter critic of British trade with China, gave prompt support to Mundt's declaration.

“The London announcement,” McCarthy said, “points up how useful that amendment would have been. Here we have people deliberately building up the war potential of Red China for blood money and we are putting up money to help them. They are voting down the possibility of any peace in Korea.”

‘Baby Bonus’ Sacred Idea—Skillings

The idea of “baby bonuses” was first suggested by Social Credit supporters in 1935, Waldo Skillings, Social Credit candidate for Victoria, told a meeting of 50 in Victoria Ballroom Thursday evening.

“The baby bonus is really a national dividend,” he said. “It is giving to those who need it most.”

He denied vehemently “opposition charges” that Social Credit government would mean the end of family allowances, pensions, and veterans allowances.

“If the Liberal government were as liberal with the boys who have served their country, as they are with promises, there would be a far better spirit in the services,” he said.

“If Social Credit members are elected in B.C., the boys will be looked after,” he said. “Pensions should be made commensurate with the purchasing power of the dollar.”

Mr. Skillings condemned the ruling which wipes out the “burnt-out” veterans pension when the ex-soldier begins to receive the old-age pensions. “Senators get the old-age pensions regardless of their income,” he said. “Why not the old soldier?”

Supporting speakers were Percy Wright and Miss Joan Kennedy.

Secrecy Shrouds Test Of Canadian-Built Jet

MONTREAL (BUP)—A top-secret label was wrapped around test-flight reports today on the first production-line model of an F-86 Sabrejet fighter powered with a Canadian-built Orenda engine.

A Sabrejet powered with a similar engine was used recently by American flier Jacqueline Cochran to set a 632 miles per hour record over a 100 metre closed course at Muroc, Calif. It was reported then that the plane could have flown faster on a straight flight.

Pearkes Offers To Renew Fight For Veterans

Furtherance of the fight for better war veterans' legislation was promised Thursday night by Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., Conservative candidate for Esquimalt-Saanich, in a campaign speech at Colwood Community Hall.

He called the means test as applied to recipients of war veterans' allowances, "... the meanest of all means tests."

He said the government should listen when organizations such as the Legion and the Army and Navy Veterans speak for 1,500,000 ex-servicemen. Instead, he continued, the government has refused to abolish the means test for war pensioners even though it has been abolished for old age pensioners.

CRITICIZES V.I.A.

He hit also at Veterans' Land Act legislation which denies the widow of a soldier fallen in his country's wars, the right to secure the home for her children that would have been offered her husband had he not been killed.

Turning to world trade, the speaker recalled that Canada once shipped 100,000,000 pounds of pork, 50,000,000 pounds of cheese annually to Commonwealth countries as well as lumber and salmon.

"We have lost these markets today and it hits us all here," he stated. He named the problem as the first that will be solved by an elected Conservative government.

Concerning the average citizen's tax dollar, Maj.-Gen. Pearkes said that before the war the federal government received 39.4 per cent of taxes paid.

The provinces received 22 per cent of all taxes and the municipalities got 38.6 per cent.

FEDERAL TAKE UP

"Now the federal government get 77 per cent, the province 12 per cent and the municipality only 38.6 per cent. Is it any wonder the province is hard put to maintain secondary roads today?" he asked.

On defense department spending, the candidate said that only 2 per cent of all orders have been allocated to this province.

He called defense contracts which have been let on a cost-plus basis, "... nothing more than an invitation to extravagance and waste." He pointed out that such contracts had been known to double and triple their estimates in the course of a year.

He said that the present government has moved too far "... along the road to dictatorship," and added that there has been "... an obvious deterioration in administration and a display of arrogance."

When he had attempted to investigate what he thought was excessive national defense spending he said he was called "... a self-appointed custodian of the public purse."

"I was sent to Ottawa to safeguard the money of the people, by the people," he concluded.

Womens national organizer of the Progressive Conservative party, Mrs. Hilda Hessen of Winnipeg spoke briefly. She said there are nine P.C. women candidates across Canada and she could foresee election of five of them.

About 40 persons attended the meeting.

Churchill May Be Back In August

LONDON (Reuters).—Sir Winston Churchill, chafing under the imposition of an enforced rest cure, expects to be back at the helm of Britain's ship of state by late August.

Sources close to the prime minister said Thursday he is rapidly approaching his old form, calling for more work and going ahead with definite plans to return to duty.

Just three months short of 79, his present activity stoutly belies various newspaper rumors that he might retire soon. The sources in closest touch with him say they have seen no basis for such reports whatever.

Adlai Stevenson, United States Democratic leader, who lunched with Churchill recently, said he thought the prime minister would be his old self in less than a month.

Meanwhile, political sources say they can find no signs of the major government reshuffle which accompanies an impending retirement.

They believe that though a switch of cabinet offices will probably take place some time in the autumn, it will not be before Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden returns to work.

Parliament adjourns today for a summer recess of nearly three months.

No Jurisdiction Over RCMP Rules Supreme Court Judge

VANCOUVER (CP)—Civil courts have no administrative jurisdiction over the RCMP, Mr. Justice H. S. Wood said in a British Columbia Supreme Court ruling Thursday.

He made the ruling in dismissing an application by former acting Cpl. J. R. C. White of Prince Rupert to have the court review police disciplinary measures against him.

Cpl. White was fined $50 and reduced in rank early this year by the RCMP after he was convicted on four charges of conduct unbecoming a police officer. He was dismissed from the RCMP a short time later.

Legal counsel for the RCMP successfully contended in court that the RCMP is set up on a military basis and as a result is outside the jurisdiction of civil courts.

Liberal Candidate Defends Government Arms Policy

The Liberal government is following an armament policy which will ensure her troops will have the best weapons available if called upon to fight, Duncan MacBride, Liberal candidate in Esquimalt-Saanich, said Thursday at Marigold Community Hall.

Mr. MacBride offered this as explanation for the large defense department budget. "With the constant improvement of the tools of war many weapons have become obsolete overnight while still in production and have to be scrapped," he said.

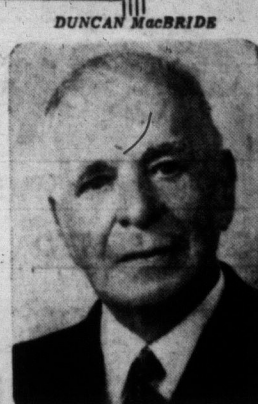

"If a policy honestly directed toward giving the Canadian soldier the best available weapons with which to defend his life and that of his country is

BOSOX BELTED

Yanks Unable To Shake Sox

A week of watchful waiting opens today in the American League. New York will be waiting for the Chicago bubble to burst and the White Sox will be watching to see that it doesn't.

These two clubs—the defending champion and the one genuine contender—go their separate ways against second division also-rans for the next seven days, then collide head-on in a vital four-game series in Yankee Stadium starting a week from today.

The way the Sox, who trail by 4½ games, played Thursday in Boston was enough to make even the ardent Yankee fans pause.

The Chicagoans blasted lefty Mel Parnell, a 14-game winner, for six hits and seven runs in three innings, then pounded two second-line throwers for 15 more hits and 10 more runs. The final count was 17-1 on 21 hits, the Sox' heaviest barrage of the season. It was their third straight triumph in Boston and dropped the Red Sox to fourth place.

YANKS BEATEN

The Yankees bowed to Cleveland 4-3 when Bill Glynn tripled after Wally Westlake walked in the eighth inning. Early Wynn picked up the victory in relief. He's the first man this season to beat the champions three times.

Washington's Chuck Stobbs checked Detroit until Walt Dropp drilled a three-run homer in the ninth, but the Senators still won handily 7-4. In the only night game in either league, Philadelphia Athletics scored five times in the second inning for a 5-3 decision over St. Louis Browns. Gus Zernial of the A's hit his 23rd homer.

BRAVES GAIN

Milwaukee sliced a game off Brooklyn's imposing National League lead by whipping New York Giants 5-0 while the Dodgers were bowing to Chicago Cubs for the first time in seven games, 3-2. Brooklyn still holds a seven-game bulge over the second-place Braves.

Enos Slaughter, who was playing pro ball before a lot of the Pirates were born, led St. Louis Cardinals to a 10-4 victory over Pittsburgh. He collected two doubles and two singles in four tries and ran his unbroken hit string to seven.

City Police in Seattle Shoot

A four-man city police unit of crack marksmen will represent Victoria at the Seattle police pistol tournament in the Sound city Sunday.

City police commission Wednesday gave approval to sending the team and authorized $50 for each man going. Seattle police have been entrants in the city police annual tournament here for many years. Attending will be Detective-Inspector Charles Webb, Detective Alex Briggs, Sgt. Jack Mason and Constable Nap Bouchard.

Fishing Results Light In Derby's Ninth Week

With only a week and a half of qualifying time left in the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association ladder derby left, anxious fishermen are churning the waters for salmon that will gain entry to the big fishoff Aug. 23.

Only 10 of the 49 runs available were filled by Thursday night, with four 8.5-pound fish being tied for the top rung. However, big fish were weighed in by anglers who had previously qualified for the ladder and are now seeking weekly prizes.

Unofficial ninth week results follow:

1-B. Haslock 8.5
2-Dick Scruggs 8.5
3-B. Robinson 8.5
4-Will Bridge 8.5
5-Brian Craig 8.5
6-L. Curran 8.5
7-Mrs. E. McVey 8.5
8-B. L. Browning 8.5
9-C. W. Renfrew 8.5
10-Mrs. C. Scruggs 8.5

Eighth weekly ladder official results follow:

Chicago (AP)—Ty Cobb, one of baseball's immortals, says Brooklyn's Roy Campanella potentially is one of the great catchers of all-time.

The Georgia Peach said Wednesday, after watching the Dodgers whip the Cubs 6-5: "He's got to watch his weight and be the all-star catcher for the next few years. He's great now but you've got to go over a long period of time to prove it to everybody." Cobb, 66, was a surprise guest at Wrigley Field, en route from Cooperstown, N.Y., to California. He leads all baseball with a life-

Key Figures As Softball Playoffs Open

Capital City Gasmen and Navy hit the gold trail Thursday night as the Senior A Men's Softball League semi-finals opened at upper Central Park. Drawing the all-important first game mound assignment for their respective clubs were Ab Wiebe (left) of Gasmen and veteran left-hander George Kinch.

Wiebe came out on top as he pitched Gasmen to a three-hit, 5-3 victory over the sailors, giving Gasmen a one-game edge. Their series continues Sunday, while Chinese Students and Butler's Aces open their semi-final series tonight at 6.30. (Times photo.)

HEBENTON AGAIN IN GOOD GRACE

Jokers, who must win their last two games of the season to qualify for the Senior B Lacrosse League playoffs, will have rugged Andy Heberton back in harness and in good graces Sunday when they meet Foul Bay at Stevenson Park at 2.30.

Heberton was suspended by league officials a month ago for a brush with referee Ernie Bell during a league game. However, his suspension was reviewed and lifted at a league meeting Thursday night and he will be eligible to play in Sunday's game. He missed three games during his suspension.

Skelton Gains Western Net Semifinals

VANCOUVER (CP)—Veteran Jim Skelton is Vancouver's lone hope for the men's singles crown in the Western Canada Lawn Tennis Championships here.

Skelton moved into the semifinals Thursday while two other city hopefuls—Jim Macken and Art Jeffery—were losing in the quarter-finals to American players.

Skelton was pushed to the limit by Californian Jim Livingston before winning out 6-2, 4-6, 9-7.

Jeffery lost out to Merv Miller of California, 6-3, 4-6, 6-1, and Macken was eliminated by Neil Neer of Portland, 6-8, 6-4, 6-4.

In the semi-finals today, Skelton meets Miller, and Neer goes against California's Dave Makko.

Grid Workout

Oak Bay Gobblins, getting back into the Victoria Junior Canadian Football League picture after being out for one season, will hold their first practice of the season Sunday morning at Windsor Park at 11.

Gobblins, who achieved a measure of fame two seasons ago by being the first team to defeat Royal Roads, have yet to appoint a coach but the team will be managed by Wally Smith.

Any junior players wishing to learn the game are invited to attend the workout.

Student's Now Fourth In 'B' Softball Race

Chinese Students climbed into fourth place in the Senior B Men's Softball League standings Thursday night when they defeated third-place Esquimalt Athletics 9-8 in an abbreviated game.

An injury to outfielder Gordy Ball, who crashed into the right-

L'I League All Stars Play Tonight

A large part of Victoria's baseball hopes will rest tonight on the little shoulders of a little band of little players.

The Victoria Little League All-Stars, the select team from the league which has just completed its first year of operation, traveled to Vancouver Thursday and will open Little League sectional playoffs tonight.

The Victoria team will play Vancouver's Jaycee National League team tonight at Bonson Park in South Burnaby.

The Victorians are assured of at least two games in the playoffs.

Richmond Hurls One-Hitter

Jocelyn Richmond hurled one hit ball as Sidney Merchants trounced Pitt & Holt, 13-2, in an exhibition Senior Women's Softball League game at Sidney Thursday night.

Scheduled as the final league contest of the season and with last-place Pitt & Holt only able to field eight registered players, the game was played as an exhibition.

Playoffs are slated to get under way next week with the L.I. League meeting Sidney in a best-of-five semifinal series, winner to vie for the lower Island championship with league winners, Individuals.

Longpre Nets Four

Ed Longpre scored half his team's goal-total Thursday night to lead Esquimalt to a 9-4 victory over Jokers in a Junior Lacrosse League game at Stevenson Park.

Longpre's four goals were scored in spite of great goaltending by Jokers' Chummy Crabbe, who kept the score from soaring.

John Makowski scored two Esquimalt goals and Al Davies and Jack Milburn added singles. Joker scorers were Leon Gould with two, and Alex Marshall and Calve with one each.

Esquimalt was ahead 3-2 at the half.

Senior Baseballers Resume Play Tonight

Play in the Victoria Amateur Baseball Association Senior League is scheduled to resume tonight with Central Carriage meeting undefeated Farmer Construction at Royal Athletic Park at 6.30.

Central Carriage, who have won one game in 15 attempts so far this season, will likely have righthander Barry Jenner

Furgol Flaunts Par To Take Tam Lead

Holds Stroke Margin; Babe Scores 82

CHICAGO (UP)—Golf's biggest money winners chased a player who has won only two tournaments in six years today as Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill., led the field into the second round of Tam O'Shanter's $25,000 "All-American" Open.

Furgol, 34-year-old pro, slashed six strokes off par with a 66 to gain a one-stroke edge on Doug Ford, Harrison, N.Y., and Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N.Y.

Behind these three were Bob Hamilton, Evansville, Ind., and Jimmy Demaret, Klamath Lake, N.Y., with 68 each.

Trailing even further behind were such "names" as Lloyd Mangrum and PGA champ Walter Burkemo with 69's, Jim Ferrier and Lawson Little with 70's, Lew Worsham, Dave Douglas and Henry Ransom with 71's, Cary Middlecoff, Sam Snead and Chandler Harper with 72's, and Tommy Bolt, Jim Turnesa and E. Oliver with 73's.

The first prize of the "All-American" is $3,420.

SARNIA WILL HEAR ABOUT OUR FISHING

Sarnia, Ont., will hear some great tales about Vancouver Island's salmon fishing when Al Gordon gets back home.

Gordon, holidaying in Victoria, visited Cowichan Bay Thursday morning and caught a 32-pound spring salmon the first time he wet his line.

On the water at 6 in the morning, Gordon had just dropped his Lucky Louie plug into the bay when the salmon struck. He boated it after a half-hour fight and found that it was 40 inches long.

While in Victoria, Gordon is staying with his daughter, Mrs. R. Barer, 2123 Sandowne.

TYEES MEET TRIBE

Solons Boost WIL Margin

Salem won and Spokane lost and daylight increased Friday between the Western International League's two front-runners.

The Senators subdued Yakima's Bear 5-3 in 10 innings at Yakima Thursday night and Spokane bowed 7-5 to Vancouver. That widened Salem's first-place margin to two games as the teams turned to Friday's series against tail-end Wenatchee and seventh-place Victoria Tyees, respectively.

Salem scored three runs in the top of the 10th, then fended off a Yakima rally, to mark up its only win in the three-game series. Gene Roenspie pitched four-hit ball for the winners.

Vancouver's narrow triumph Spokane snapped the Indians' winning streak at four straight. Bob Roberts, given credit for the win over his former teammates, allowed eight hits and struck out 11 for his sixth win against two losses.

STOREY HOMERS

Manager Harvey Storey homered for Vancouver and Jim Command and Will Hafey rapped out four-masters for the Indians.

The pitchers stood back and watched nine of their offerings sail over the close-in fences at Calgary as Edmonton hammered out a 17-15 decision over the home-town Stampede. Calgary reliever Eddie Kapp gave up three of the round-trippers in the seventh inning.

Lewiston shaded Tri-City 8-7 at Kennewick in the league's only other scheduled game. Manager Bill Brenner allowed the Braves 11 hits in chalking up his 17th pitching victory.

ROCKS NEAR INTERCITY BOXLA TITLE

Victoria Shamrocks, within scant inches of their third straight Intercity Lacrosse League championship, will play their last league game at Vancouver Forum tonight and the Irish will probably be just as glad that it is the last game there.

The host PNE Indians have given the Rocks nothing but trouble at the Forum although they have been unable to beat the Irish in Victoria.

A victory tonight would give the Irish a commanding 11-point lead over second-place Vancouver Pilseners and combined with a defeat to Pilseners at Nanaimo Saturday would assure the Rocks of the title.

Six-Day Match Approved By Aussies

LONDON (AP)—The Australian-Surrey cricket game today at the Kennington Oval ended in a draw after hours of rain. Water was inches deep in numerous puddles. The Aussies finished the second day ahead by 118 runs with one wicket to fall. This was the seventh blank day experienced by the Aussies during their summer tour.

During the day W. H. Jeanes, secretary of the Australian Cricket Board at Control, wired the Marylebone Cricket Club that his group agreed to a suggestion to make the fifth and final test with England a six-day meeting, instead of five.

After four draws, the fate of the mythical "Ashes" has not been determined. An additional day of play for the final test improves chances of reaching a decision instead of playing another draw.

GOALIE SIGNED

VERNON, B.C. (CP)—Johnny Sofiak, 25-year-old Saskatoon goalie, has been signed to guard nets for Vernon Canucks of the Okanagan Senior Hockey League in 1953-54, club officials have announced.

PADDLING CLASSIC

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's 1953 triennial paddling classic—the 53rd annual Canadian Canoe Association championship regatta—opens today on the quiet waters of Mooney's Bay course near Ottawa.

Seattle is only three and a half half games behind pace-setting Hollywood in the battle for the Pacific Coast League pennant.

Seattle, behind the cagy pitching of portside Steve Nagy, downed Portland again Thursday night, 2-1, while Hollywood bowed to Los Angeles, 5-4.

The Los Angeles victory over Hollywood was witnessed by 13,153 fans. It was the largest turnout ever at Gilmore Field and included 2,000 standees roped off in the outfield.

ON THE OUTDOOR FRONT

With ROY THORSEN

"Don't let them take the Thetis Lake Park away from us!" That was the appeal reaching this corner this week by telephone from many people who love the outdoors and hate to hear of public playgrounds being lessened.

Callers viewed with alarm the report that this city-owned natural beauty spot six miles from the city centre was in danger of being sold to private enterprise. They would much rather have it turned over to the provincial government and maintained as a park.

Mayor Claude L. Harrison favors the government park idea but wants it in writing what the government will do to develop the area.

"We don't want to see another natural beauty spot taken away from us," said George "Red" Laird, president of the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association and three-year president of the Island affiliated body. He thinks the Thetis Lakes area should be turned over to the government "with no strings attached, just so we will be assured it will remain a public recreation ground."

Thetis Lakes have been a good fishing ground for many and favorite swimming and picnic grounds for thousands of citizens.

Veteran sportsmen and outdoorsman Roger Monteith had a few words to say on the subject.

"The more parks we have the better. We should never put ourselves in a position where these parks can be handed to private syndicates."

"The Thetis Lakes' country is one of the nicest pieces of natural country we have in these parts . . . and it should be retained for the public," Monteith told this writer.

He was just a little afraid that if private interests took over the area they might turn it into a "honky-tonk" set-up.

"It is a beautiful, natural place and I hope the government will take it over," said sportsman Gordy Lamont. He said he was in complete agreement with Monteith.

Stewart Pringle, of 2900 Washington, the man who won the main prize in last Sunday's highly successful Anglers-Times salmon-derby for the Queen Alexandra Solarium reported today that he will donate $100 to the Solarium. The derby netted $5,764, according to Secretary George Douglas of the angling clan.

Biggest salmon of the year so far reeled in by Island sports fishermen was the 63½-pounder boated by LAC Harry Piper, RCAF camp at Comox, this week. From nose to tail top the fish measured 47½ inches. It was lured by a Tom Mack spoon off Point Holmes. Piper was also using a herring dodger. . . . Sam Lane only had one regret the other night when fire did about $20,000 damage to his Olde England Inn. "It broke a date I had with guests to go after the early-morning springs at Cowichan Bay."

R. M. Poskitt, of the Chemainus Rod and Gun Club, wrote down to tell us that the club will stage a derby Aug. 16 in the waters off Chemainus, and vicinity. Prizes are the richest ever offered by that club. They are worth $450. Tops is a 12-foot inboard motor boat. There will be $50 cash for the person guessing closest to the weight of the largest salmon registered. . . . Henry Schroyen was the 18th prize-winner in the Solarium Derby last Sunday. His catch (inadvertently omitted from the prize list) weighed 9.12 pounds.

Featured event on this week-end's outdoor front is the double-feature championship trap-sket tournament at the Victoria Gun Club grounds, off Albert Head Road. There will be continuous firing throughout Saturday and Sunday. It's a big show that will draw scores of shooters from many Island points, the mainland and the United States. . . .

Fishing at Goldstream end of Saanich Inlet remains good. An example: Don Gunn and Walter Thickett and friend reeled in eight springs and two coho Wednesday . . . and during that day almost all fishermen scored a fish or two.

JUST RAMBLING: Some salmon being taken by rock-strip casters and those in boats off Saanichton Spit. . . . Good fishing off South Saturna Island's East Point. . . . Deep Cove, Saanich Inlet, offering its best fishing of the year. . . . Early-morning Cowichan Bay fishing for springs the best. . . . Bill Hamilton, of city police commission, is very proud of himself. "Got a bull's-eye at the city police pistol tournament," he boasted. Chief of Police John Blackstock is of the opinion a neighboring shooter misfired and scored the Hamilton bull's-eye.

Lindsay-Gomez Win Mat Feature on Foul

Feature of Thursday night's three-bout wrestling card at Memorial Arena was a wild tag-team match with Luther Lindsay and Pepper Gomez opposing Don Kindred and Angelo Poffo.

The speedy Lindsay-Gomez combination won the decision on a disqualification in the third fall. Winners pinned Poffo for the first fall but lost the second when Kindred and Poffo dished out an ample amount of punishment and pinned Gomez.

Kindred grappled in the semi-main event with Ivan Kamaroff when Al Fridelle failed to put in his expected appearance. Kamaroff captured the match on a foul.

Claire Robinson took a one-fall decision over Gypsy Moe Faleta in the opening bout.

BROWNS GET STEPHENS

ST. LOUIS (AP)—St. Louis Browns Thursday night announced the purchase of Vern Stephens, one-time star with the club, from Chicago White Sox for "slightly more" than the $10,000 waiver price.

TIME OUT!

Ben May Lose Lead in Dollar Derby

CHICAGO (CP)—Ben Hogan may soon be overtaken as golf's leading money-winner of 1953.

The little guy from Palm Springs, Calif., is not entered in Tam o' Shanter's all-American and world tournaments which offer $120,000 in prizes the next two week-ends and any one of a score or more pros can move ahead of him by winning the top $25,000 prize.

Hogan, playing in four Professional Golfers' Association-sponsored championships, has won $16,604. He is followed by Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., with $15,366; Doug Ford, Harrison, N.Y., with $14,601; and Dutch Harrison, Ardmore, Okla., with $14,533.

Others in the top-bracket of pros who make golf their living are:

Dr. Gary Middlecott, Memphis, Tenn., $12,232; Earl Stewart Jr., Dallas, Tex., $12,232; Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N.Y., $12,232; Ed Oliver, Lemon, Cal., $12,232; Jerry Barber, Lancaster, Calif., $11,547; Fred Haas Jr., New Orleans, La., $11,547; Tommy Bolt, Maplewood, N.J., $11,547; Marty Furgol, Lemon, Cal., $10,697; Jack Burke Jr., Klamath Lake, N.Y., $10,186; Ben Saddle, White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., $9,877; Jim Porter, San Francisco, Calif., $9,281.

Record Falls At Regatta

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—A stiff breeze roughed up Okanagan Lake Thursday, curtailing many speedboat races that were to highlight the first day of the annual, three-day Kelowna regatta.

Seventy-two-year-old Art Jones of Kelowna drove his Miss Kelowna to victory in both heats of the Class E racing runabouts.

Wilbur Campbell and Derek Laverty, both of Ocean Falls, beat the record for the open one-mile. They swam neck and neck for the 35 laps of the 50-yard pool, Campbell spurring just enough in the final 10 yards to win by a foot.

Campbell's record for the mile is 22:57.4. The previous record of 25:13.9 was set last year by Gilbert Westwell of Portland.

In winning the 100-yard backstroke for senior women, Pat Russell of Vancouver equalled the previous record of 1:15.

FIGHT RESULTS

DETROIT—Alvin Gossak, 1st Lincoln Park, Mich., stopped Carl Stifford, 143, Chicago, 1.

NEWARK, N.J.—James J. Parker, 204, Toronto, stopped Carl Bolin, 185, Ten-4.

HOLE-IN-NOthing

BUFFALO (AP)—You can mark Mrs. Jack Gustin down for a hole-in-nothing.

Mrs. Gustin used a four-iron to hole out her tee shot on the 144-yard 12th hole at Brookfield Country Club Wednesday. She was playing in a handicap golf tournament and was entitled to one stroke on the hole.

Cockell to Seek Rocky If He Gets by Matthews

(Special to The Times)

SEATTLE—Don Cockell, British Empire heavyweight champion, arrived at the Seattle-Tacoma International airport Thursday night for his fight here at Sicks' Stadium Aug. 7 with Harry Matthews.

In the Cockell entourage were his wife, his trainer, William Cowd, and Peter Wilson, boxing expert for the London Daily Mirror.

The party was greeted at the airport by Mr. Kenneth Burnstead, British Consul-General. Also present were several prominent British citizens.

The burly Cockell who will weigh more than 200 pounds for Matthews, refused to make any predictions about the outcome but he did announce that he had been training in London for more than a month and that he will be in perfect condition.

Cowd echoed those sentiments, although he said that Don was weary from the 7,000-mile transcontinental airplane junket.

SEEKS ROCKY

"We know that Matthews is a great fighter," Cowd told reporters, "but Don didn't come all this distance just to meet Matthews. He came with every intention of winning. What he really after is a championship match with Rocky Marciano and if he beats Matthews he will land it for next summer."

Wilson, the most prominent boxing authority in England, said that London promoter Jack Solomons will make a tremendous offer to Marciano to meet Cockell in London if he gets over Matthews.

A day of rest and relaxation was planned for Cockell today and he will probably go through his first training session at the Evergreen gym Saturday.

Thousands of Canadian fans will be present for the fight and there are tentative plans for Cockell to visit Vancouver, B.C., prior to the fight if he can work it into his schedule.

Tickets have been moving in record numbers but the bout has

Combined Race Meet Saturday

Auto racing returns to Shearings Speedway Saturday night with a combined big car and stock car meet at the Cobble Hill cut-off oval.

Time trials are slated to get under way at 7:45 and an abundance of cars are expected to be on hand.

STOP SCRATCHING YOUR SCALP BALD! DO THIS!

An itching, scaly scalp may be a sign of approaching baldness. You can stop this danger signal say thousands upon thousands of delighted British users of pure SILVIKIN. An organic hair tonic, pure SILVIKIN combines 14 amino-acids. It rids the scalp of unsightly dandruff, has actually stopped falling hair and stimulated normal hair growth for thousands of British men and women. Try pure SILVIKIN today! Obtainable from all druggists.

VARIOUS PROBLEMS

Other items on the agenda include how many teams will participate in post-season play-offs and in the number of games to be played; selection of officials; rule changes; and approval or rejection of a proposed play-off with the Quebec Hockey League champions.

RANKIN RETIRES

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP)—Robert S. (Scotty) Rankine, a distance runner who represented Canada at both the Olympic and British Empire games, says he's hanging up his racing shoes.

May Campbell Turned to CCF During Prairie Farm Struggle

(This is the first of a series intended to introduce the six Victoria candidates in the federal election to readers of the Times. The candidates will be introduced in alphabetical order. Today's subject is Mrs. May Campbell, CCF.)

By MONTE ROBERTS

One of the accepted theories of family life is that a time of leisure comes to mother after the children are grown and have set up homes of their own.

By this theory, Mrs. May Campbell should be sitting by the fire in the winter and putting about her garden in the summer.

She achieved the status early in life, by the simple process of marrying at 19 and having her family—three boys and a girl—in her youth.

Now she has four homes—away-from-home to visit if she chooses and eight youngsters to call her grandmother.

She can also look back on an arduous life of plain physical hard work and a great deal of mental worry—so she has earned her time of leisure.

SIXTH CAMPAIGN

However, Mrs. Campbell is busier than ever devoting her energies to politics.

This is her sixth try for office.

—she has been a provincial candidate in four elections since 1945, and in 1951 stood for city council.

Mrs. Campbell, a quiet-spoken yet volatile woman who favors conservative suits and dresses, was born in Tonbridge, Kent, the fourth child in a family which was to number seven boys and three girls.

Her family emigrated to Canada in 1904, and settled first in Wapella, Saskatchewan. Later they moved to the Touchwood Hills to homestead.

The traditional "one-room schoolhouse," constructed of logs, is Mrs. Campbell's alma mater. She did not go to high school for the sufficient reason there were no high school facilities in her district at the time.

Walter Campbell, whom she married in 1912, was then employed in construction work on the Grand Trunk Railway, which later became part of the CNR line. Thus their early married life was a succession of small towns and construction camps.

Shortly after the outbreak of the First World War, they managed a more settled life at Watrous, a divisional point. Then, after the war, the Campbells turned to farming a half section of land.

HUSBAND SOCIALIST

This, says Mrs. Campbell, was the birth of her interest in politics. Her husband, a life-time Socialist and son of a Socialist father in Scotland, had previously been unable to budge her inherited conservatism.

But 15 years of farming, which might better be called 15 years of slavery, changed my mind," she says.

The Campbells were both active members of the United Farmers of Canada when they entered politics in 1932, and became charter members of the CCF in 1933.

In 1937 they gave up the effort of wresting a living from the soil, moved to the Okanagan, and in 1944 came to Victoria. They operate a confectionery store on Gladstone, near Fernwood.

Had Mrs. Campbell more leisure time she would most likely spend it in gardening—flowers are her great love—and with music. She is very keen about music, and her great regret is that she is no musician herself.

The second article in the series, on Dr. Frank T. Fairley, Liberal, will appear Saturday.

Farm life changed her thinking...

Boycott Threatened Against Wicks' Parley

British Columbia's two largest labor organizations have threatened to boycott a government-sponsored conference to which labor leaders have been invited to discuss the ICA Act.

Aug. 28, has indicated that the meeting will go on as scheduled.

The boycott suggestion originated when CCL spokesmen in Vancouver announced they were not prepared to take part in any conference at which there would be representatives of the CCL. The reference was to Harvey Murphy's independent Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' Union, which was expelled from the CCL in 1948 on grounds that it was Communist dominated.

Thursday a spokesman for the provincial council of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada said it would support the CCL in this regard and also boycott the conference.

TLC leaders were not enthusiastic about the conference anyway. Some of their number expressed the view that it would be a waste of time.

Purpose of the meeting, as explained by Mr. Wicks, was to have union representatives agree on what changes they would like to see made to the ICA Act. He announced he would call a similar conference to get views of management at a later date.

Labor men say the government already knows their views on the matter.

If all labor groups had accepted the invitation to participate there would have been about 40 persons at the conference.

If CCL and TLC bodies carry out their boycott threat only about six might show up—these from the MMSWU and the Native Brotherhood of B.C.

Woman Overcome In Apartment Fire

A city fire department rescuer today revived Mrs. Emily Smilie, 86, after she had been overcome by smoke when fire broke out at 1.38 a.m. in her apartment at 2107 Blanshard Street.

Fire department officials said the fire was due to a smoker's carelessness. A chair caught fire and filled the apartment with smoke.

City police took Mrs. Smilie to Royal Jubilee Hospital. Her condition is classed as good.

Young Saanich Man First Polio Victim

Father of Two Dies in Hospital; Authorities Suggest Precautions

Vancouver Island has had its first polio fatality this year with the death early today of John W. Atkinson, 26-year-old son of Inspector Peris Atkinson of the city police force.

Mr. Atkinson, 3215 Albion Road, Saanich, a married man with two children, was admitted to Royal Jubilee Hospital isolation Wednesday.

Saanich has reported nine cases of polio to date compared with one at this same period last year. Cases came in later in 1952 with the overall yearly total of 12.

The city and Esquimalt have had three cases to date this year compared with one for the same period last year.

Five cases have been reported from the Belmont naval housing subdivision, but the area is not under quarantine.

PRECAUTIONS

Medical health officers of the Greater Victoria area and province have endorsed the following recommendations:

Avoid contact with known cases of polio.

Keep out of crowds during an epidemic.

Avoid fatigue. (A large proportion of serious cases is found among active children.)

Do not swim in polluted water.

Avoid chilling from staying too long in cold water.

Keep hands clean by washing before meals and after going to the toilet.

Keep garbage and waste covered, so as not to attract flies.

Insure proper disposal of human excreta.

Protect food from exposure to flies and insects.

Wash fresh fruits and new vegetables before eating.

Stay away from persons with nose and throat infections, and avoid operations for removal of tonsils and adenoids during a polio epidemic season.

BE ALERT

Be on the alert for symptoms. Any febrile condition during a polio epidemic should be viewed suspiciously until proven NOT polio.

Call your doctor or local health authorities if suspicious symptoms occur.

Early care will often prevent or limit crippling.

Medical authorities do not know how the polio virus is transmitted, why so many cases make a complete recovery without any specific treatment or why more boys than girls are affected.

YOUNG VICTIMS
Most cases occur in the 5 to 14 year age group, according to federal government health authorities.

Health authorities know that flies carry the polio virus. The virus is found in infected sewage which can contaminate drinking water, they say.

Extreme fatigue, uncleanness and chilling from staying in cold water all predispose to making an individual more susceptible to a polio infection, health authorities state.

While they do not know how the virus is transmitted they

"surmise that it is by direct contact, carriers, droplet borne infection; and possibly by water, fresh fruits, vegetables and foods contaminated with polio virus."

A federal government health pamphlet states: "During an epidemic period, the following symptoms must be viewed with suspicion: Headache, head cold, moderate fever, loss of appetite, nausea or vomiting, pain in the upper part of abdomen, diarrhoea or unusual constipation, nervousness or irritability, pain or stiffness in neck or back."

Elsewhere in Canada, the Manitoba health department described July as the blackest month for polio in the province's history. There were 320 cases and two proved fatal.

The provincial count for 1953 was 364 cases and eight fatalities and July was the epidemic month presumably because of unbroken hot and humid weather.

Dr. M. R. Elliott, Manitoba's deputy health minister said the epidemic appeared to be "easing slightly" as only 10 fresh cases occurred Thursday.

The only disagreement at Thursday's meeting concerned reclassification wages for some 21 employees. The council wants to pay the 21 men on an hourly basis instead of by the month as they have been paid in the past.

The union refused to consent to this until the matter has been submitted to a general meeting of the association.

Alan Schofield, a union official, said a meeting to discuss this matter will be held on Monday at 8 p.m. in the Douglas Street CCF Hall. The union will meet the council again after it has made a decision.

Three City Theft Charges Reduced In Police Court

Three charges of breaking and entering premises and committing theft, against James Earle McNaughton, 47, of Victoria, were reduced today to charges of theft of articles of over the value of $25 when he reappeared in city police court.

Magistrate H. C. Hall remanded McNaughton to next Tuesday for committal for trial after one charge of theft against him had been heard.

He is alleged to have robbed Janet Wilson of goods of over the value of $25 at the Luxor Apartments, Cook and Richardson.

Two other charges against him of theft from apartment houses will be heard Tuesday. Charges of breaking and entering and committing theft were withdrawn at the request of Prosecutor Alan E. Bigelow.

James J. Proudfoot is counsel for McNaughton.

Sailors Fined For Taking Car

Gordon J. Steele and Rowland Betty, naval ratings of HMCS Naden, each were fined $100 by Magistrate H. C. Hall when they pleaded guilty in city police court today to a joint charge of taking a car without the consent of the owner.

Court was told that the sailors were caught by RCMP after a high-speed chase from Duncan to Prospect Lake early today. They were found near the stolen car after it had been abandoned on Prospect Lake Road. Car was reported to be belonging to an employee of the Westholme Hotel.

Victoria Flier Killed in Crash Of RCAF Trainer

A flying instructor killed Thursday when a Harvard training plane crashed on a farm near this town, 100 miles south of Edmonton, has been identified as FO Eric Coward, 22, of Regina and Victoria.

Identity of an NATO student killed in the same crash has been withheld by the RCAF pending notification of next-of-kin.

The Harvard was on routine flying exercise from the No. 4 flying training school here when it crashed on the farm of Bruce McGee.

Cause of the accident has not been determined.

Employees Accept Bulk of Saanich Settlement Terms

Saanich Municipal Employees' Association (TLC) accepted the majority of new wage rates for its members at a meeting between union officials and Saanich Council Thursday.

The meeting was called to settle a wage dispute which resulted in a one-month strike of some 150 municipal workers in June.

The only disagreement at Thursday's meeting concerned reclassification wages for some 21 employees. The council wants to pay the 21 men on an hourly basis instead of by the month as they have been paid in the past.

The union refused to consent to this until the matter has been submitted to a general meeting of the association.

Alan Schofield, a union official, said a meeting to discuss this matter will be held on Monday at 8 p.m. in the Douglas Street CCF Hall. The union will meet the council again after it has made a decision.

Teen-Age Drinking Starts Beer Probe By Commissioner

B.C. Liquor Commissioner Donald McGugan today confirmed it is his intention to investigate Nanaimo's beer delivery system, following a report that a 17-year-old boy had been found in a drunken condition in the downtown section of the up-Island centre.

The commissioner stressed, however, that the investigation would simply be "routine" and that it was not his intentions to carry on any full-scale investigation throughout the province.

He said he was still awaiting a police report on the Nanaimo incident.

According to RCMP at Nanaimo the 17-year-old had become drunk at a teenagers' house party. Police said beer for the party was delivered after a phone order was placed by a 14-year-old girl.

Liquor Commissioner McGugan acknowledged such reports were referred to him for investigation "from time to time."

No Saanich Payment

City Solicitor Arthur Patton reiterated Victoria's stand Thursday against paying a $100 tax bill on its Elk Lake property, to Saanich municipality. The city contends the property is exempt from taxes under a special act of 1923. Saanich claims the land is no longer exempt because the city has leased a portion of it.

ASK THE TIMES

Q—How old in human history are rings? C.M.L.

A—The Encyclopedia Britannica says the earliest existing rings are found in tombs of ancient Egypt. The large gold swirl rings mounted with a scarab, found in Etruscan tombs, are believed to have been introduced into Etruria from Egypt.

Q—Will you please tell me who will succeed the Archbishop of Canterbury? D.M.

A—It is impossible to say what eminent churchman will be the next Archbishop of Canterbury. No action is taken to nominate and elect a successor till the existing holder of the high episcopal office resigns or dies. The Most Rev. Geoffrey F. Fisher, the 50th in his line, is a man of great vigor and wide activity. He recently passed his 66th birthday.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along to The Times, "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

After a two-day session in Victoria for mechanical adjustments, Black Ball line's MV Kahloke resumed service on the Horseshoe Bay-Nanaimo run today.

The ferry makes five round trips daily.

J. H. Rowlands, 2981 Qu'Appelle, complained to city police Thursday evening that while he was driving his car along the 1200 block on Princess someone cracked his left draft window with an air rifle shot.

Magistrate A. I. Thomas told Donald E. Dalke, Meade Avenue, Belmont, that he would recommend his license be suspended for six months when he appeared in RCMP Colwood court Thursday afternoon and was fined $150 for driving a car while his ability was impaired by alcohol.

A new series of 10 lessons will begin Monday in parent craft classes at the YWCA. A movie entitled "Baby Meets His Parents" will start the lessons at 2 p.m. The last class averaged 19 to 20 young mothers. All expectant and young mothers are eligible to attend the classes which are sponsored by the City Health Department, the Saanich and South Vancouver Island Health Units and the Victorian Order of Nurses.

Earl A. Allen, 50 South Turner, received a license suspension with a $35 fine when he pleaded guilty in city police court today to a charge of careless driving.

Court was told that about $200 damage was done to his car when it was in an accident recently at the Fountain Circle, Hillside and Douglas.

Provincial civil servants who work in institutions, on maintenance staffs or on outside jobs on a 44-hour-a-week basis have been advised by the Provincial Government Employees' Association to reject any attempt by the government to bring them under a five-day week plan without a reduction in hours.

Government office workers, who have a 36½-hour week, start on a five-day week plan Saturday.

The PGEA takes a stand that while the new deal for office people is desirable, it should oppose any attempt to introduce a five-day, 44-hour week into the civil service since this would necessarily mean a work day exceeding eight hours. This, the association claims, would be contrary to the provisions of the Hours of Work Act.

If the City Council ever attempts to sell Thetis Lake or other public recreational centers to "private interests" it is going to have a fight on its hands, it was indicated today by officials of Victoria and District Parent-Teacher Council.

Council officials have gone on record as strongly opposed to any suggestion that Thetis Lake be sold and is calling for a definite parks development program from the city.

Their views follow a recommendation made last week by Acting City Water Commissioner J. C. Garnett for a definite City Council policy on "future development or sale of Thetis, Beaver and Elk Lake properties.

Mrs. G. W. Pottinger, chairman of the council's recreational committee, told the Times if there is "ever any attempt to sell Thetis Lake I will personally go out and attempt to rally Victoria citizens to oppose such a move."

"But I don't think the city council has any idea of selling the lake," she added. "I can't see any public-spirited person wanting to sell such beautiful recreational land."

Mrs. Pottinger said, however, there appears to be a need today for public men "who can see a little further than their noses."

"Thetis Lake has wonderful possibilities," she said. "What we need is men with vision who will develop such areas for the people."

Mrs. Pottinger said her views also applied to other sites like Beaver and Elk Lakes.

She said she was in favor of the city turning the area over to the provincial government. "The provincial parks department has made a wonderful job of its parks," she said. "It certainly could look after Thetis Lake."

Mrs. Leslie E. Moutray, president of the council, confirmed that the parent-teacher group is against the sale of Thetis Lake.

"Personally, if the city can

Sunday Concert Will Mark 91st Anniversary of City

City of Victoria will observe the 91st anniversary of its incorporation at a special band concert in Beacon Hill Park Sunday afternoon at 3.

Greater Victoria Celebrations Association will present the concert at Cameron Memorial Pavilion with James M. Miller conducting the band.

Acting-Mayor Frank G. Mulliner will speak briefly on the city's incorporation and growth. Rudy Hartman will be master of ceremonies.

The concert will open with Sousa's "Triumphal March," and include selections from "Roberta," Schubert's "Rosamunde" overture and "An American Weekend."

Vocal solos will be given by Grace Adams and Arthur Stringer. Miss Adams will sing "Lassie o' Mine" and "Love Sends a Little Gift of Roses," while Mr. Stringer will sing "Because" and "Roses of Picardy."

Harold Denike will be saxophone soloist in the number "Beautiful Colorado" while George Green will be soloist on "A Trumpeter's Lullaby."

possibilities," she said. "What we need is men with vision who will develop such areas for the people."

Mrs. Pottinger said her views also applied to other sites like Beaver and Elk Lakes.

She said she was in favor of the city turning the area over to the provincial government. "The provincial parks department has made a wonderful job of its parks," she said. "It certainly could look after Thetis Lake."

Mrs. Leslie E. Moutray, president of the council, confirmed that the parent-teacher group is against the sale of Thetis Lake.

"Personally, if the city can not maintain or develop the Thetis Lake, I am in favor of turning over the district to the provincial government," she added.

Mrs. Moutray disclosed that last year, the council appointed a committee to investigate conditions at Thetis Lake and discovered that the city had let the park "go downhill." She said the committee made recommendations to the City Council for the upkeep of the park.

"We need parks not only for children but for grown-ups, too," she said. "Thetis Lake has wonderful possibilities as major park for southern Vancouver Island."

Transparent Apples Top My Garden Produce List!

By PENNY SAVER

Let's get busy with the flour, lard, cloves and everything that goes into the making of a luscious deep apple pie. Ma, 'cause I've got all the transparent apples you need for the job! Remember what dandy pies we made with them last year? Well, I wouldn't miss out on a treat like that, now that transparents are on the market and looking every bit as sweet and juicy as last year's did! They make scrumptious apple sauce, too... so let's not wait another minute. Price is at present, two pounds for 25 cents.

There are very few price reductions in fruit and vegetables, this week, although I did notice that corn is slightly cheaper... it's now selling at three cobs for 25 cents. Raspberries, instead of being sold at two hallmarks for 35 cents, as they were last week, have slipped slightly to 15 cents a hallmark. Logans have remained at last week's price of two hallmarks for 35 cents. Boysen berries are obtainable now... they certainly look plump and juicy! Price of them is 20 cents a hallmark. Blueberries are 35 cents a hallmark.

Want any more fruit prices? Well, cantaloupes are 25 cents each; Bing cherries are 25 cents a pound; cooking cherries are 20 cents a pound; plums are 25 cents a pound; seedless green grapes are 35 cents a pound; Bartlett pears are three for 25 cents; peaches are 25 cents a pound and those small, sweet oranges are 30 cents a dozen.

Let's take a peek at prices on the vegetable stalls, now! Wowee! Here's something I missed until just now! New potatoes, instead of selling at six pounds for 25 cents as they were last week, are now just 29 cents for a whole 10 pounds of them! Can you believe it? That's quite a drop!

Green beans are 30 cents a pound; waxed beans are 29 cents a pound and broad beans are three pounds for 29 cents. Fresh beets are selling at 15 cents for two bunches and green peas are 20 cents a pound. Perk up those luncheon salad plates with a touch of green pepper. They sell at 45 cents a pound... green onions are just 5 cents a bunch.

TODAY'S RECIPE

ORANGE CHICKEN SAUTE

One frying chicken (about 3½ pounds), cut in pieces for serving, salt and pepper to taste, ¼ cup butter or margarine, 1 large onion (chopped), 2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup orange juice, ¼ teaspoon pure monosodium glutamate, 2 tablespoons sherry, if desired.

Sprinkle chicken pieces with salt and pepper; saute gently in butter until delicately browned, turning to brown all sides. Remove chicken and cook onion in the drippings for a minute or so. Blend in flour; add orange juice and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture boils and thickens. Season sauce with salt and pepper plus the ¼ teaspoon of monosodium glutamate.

Return chicken to pan. Bring to boil, then cover and simmer very gently 45 minutes to one hour, or until chicken is tender, turning and basting chicken occasionally. Just before serving, add sherry, if desired. Taste and add additional salt, pepper and monosodium glutamate if needed.

Serves 3 or 4.
Note—Green peas, new potatoes and hot biscuits are exactly right with this dish.

Before washing sweaters, examine for dropped stitches which must be caught to prevent ladder runs.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The Seven Basic Foods, A Guide to Good Health

Q—"Can't you give me some simple rule about diet and nutrition which will assure me that my family is being properly fed?"

A—"I think the simplest guide is the Seven Basic Foods. You need some of each every day. They are milk and milk products; cereals and breads; meat, fish, eggs and poultry, dried peas or beans or nuts; leafy green and yellow vegetables; citrus fruits, tomatoes and raw cabbage; potatoes and other vegetables and fruits; fats, butter and fortified margarine.

Q—"I am 13 years old. I would like to know if my measurements are in proportion. Bust measures 33 inches, waist 24½ and hips 34½."

A—"Yes. You have a remarkably fine figure for a girl of your age."

Q—"My friends consider me a big fatso and are always hurting my feelings. I will admit that I am overweight but I don't think I am ready to enter the circus as a 'fat lady.' I am almost 15 years old, weigh 140 and am five feet seven and one-half inches tall. I am large boned. Bust 36 inches, waist 27 and hips 38. Please tell me how much I have to lose and if my hips are extremely large."

A—"Since you say you are large boned I do not think you should lose more than five pounds. As a matter of fact, with an extremely heavy skeleton you may not be overweight at all. Your hips are within the allowable for a good figure, but if you wish to improve on the situation exercise for the loss of an inch or so in that measurement. The waist will probably come down an inch also.

Q—"How long does it take to reduce the abdomen? I have been taking exercises for six weeks and see no difference. In fact my stomach seems bigger."

A—"I wonder if you are taking the right exercises? You should see some difference within two weeks' time. Then, of course, if you are overweight you will have to count calories also. Exercise could firm the abdomen but it could not make it larger unless the exercises have whetted your appetite and caused you to eat more than you have been eating.

Q—"Will you please tell me what is wrong with my figure? I am 16 years old, weigh 120 pounds and am five feet two inches tall. My bust measures 34 inches, waist 26½ and hips 37."

A—"You are a little overweight and should lose around seven pounds. Just watch the 'extras' but eat a well-balanced diet. Also take hip reducing exercises for a loss in inches there.

Plate luncheons for "just family" are step-saving for mother. Here's one that gets top billing: canned fruit cocktail in lettuce cups, sieved Cava spread on toast, cheese sticks and raisin cookies. Everything may be put on one plate and eaten in any part of the house.

AS WE LIVE

Absent Fiance Dislikes Having to Write Letters

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

When two people love each other they like to keep in close touch when they are separated. When the one does not like to write letters, what attitude should the other take? That is the question raised by a young woman.

(Q.) "I have a boy friend in the service and he is now overseas. We plan to be married when he comes home. But I don't hear from him very often. He keeps me waiting two or three weeks for a letter, sometimes more. This makes me very lonesome and blue, especially as my friends all get letters from their boy friends every day. His only excuse is that he doesn't feel like writing. I stopped writing to him for a while but that didn't help a bit. I love him very much and I know he loves me too. I get so lonesome that I almost feel like cheating on him, but I don't want to lose him. I also know I wouldn't enjoy any other dates. What can I do to make him write to me oftener?"

(A.) There is nothing you can do to make a man write to you if he doesn't like to write. Some men, and some women too, are like that. Writing letters is a terrific chore for them and it is only with the greatest effort that they can bring themselves to compose even a short note.

Not hearing from your fiance daily certainly does not mean that he does not love you or that he has changed his mind about marrying you. It merely means what he says, that he doesn't feel like writing letters.

You should not allow this to affect your love for him or make you turn to someone else. If you are planning to marry him, it would be silly for you to ruin your chances for happiness by going out on dates with other men and giving him the impression that you did not care enough to wait for him.

Keep yourself busy and the time will pass more quickly. You might ask him to drop you just a line or two frequently instead of writing a real letter. That will not look like such a big job and it may bring results.

Crazier Pants

The basic tapered pants silhouette which was popular last year has gained newness for the coming year through crazy appliques on basic fabrics. Fake fur pants look like palomino or sheepskin. Pants in flannels are decorated with strings of mirrors or polka dots of felt and caspikin; pants have pockets all over them.

Between Ourselves

By ELIZABETH FORBES

"You're going for a ride on a fire-engine," said photographer Irving Strickland when he burst into the office early yesterday afternoon.

"Not me!" I came right back at him, "you're looking for Monte Roberts or Dave Stock or maybe Pete Loudoun."

"Nope, looking for you," photographer Strickland answered excitedly, "It's a brand new fire-engine, and it's going on a road test in 15 minutes. You'll get a good story."

Well... they have an all-woman fire brigade up at Alberni.

... There's a rumor that another group is forming on one of the Gulf Islands. ... So, I persuaded myself that perhaps I should take a ride on a fire-engine.

The new machine, all shiny red paint and silver chrome was waiting for us at the back of the main fire hall on Fisgard Street. Fire Chief Briers was waiting, too.

"She the one that's going?" he questioned... photographer Strickland nodded. ... The fire chief heaved a gusty sigh. "She can't go like that she'll freeze up there on top." ... He turned to fireman driver Tom Crabb, and roared, "Get her a coat!"

I was draped in a big water-proof wind-breaker that came down to my heels, over my hands and up around my ears... and hoisted (I used the word in its proper sense) up on the seat of the new pumper.

Before we started out, the fire chief explained that the new machine had already passed all B.C. Underwriter's tests.

On level ground, moving at 35 miles an hour, one test asked that the pumper stop within 35 seconds... it made it in 25 seconds. From a dead stop it had to get speed up to 15 miles within 200 feet... speed was up in less than 100 feet. On the road to the summit of Mt. Douglas, the tests demanded the machine stop coming down and reverse up-hill. That was done handsily. It had also pumped water at the rate of 1,000 gallons a minute.

Now, we were going on another road test... especially for the chief. If he gave the OK then the new pumper would be ready for a fire.

To keep the record straight, Fire Chief Briers also told me the machine weighed around 22,000 pounds, had a four-line hose and two booster hoses aboard and carried three men and a driver.

It was something of a triumph for the city, he said, for only the chassis was bought in Seattle. The body was built right here in Victoria in the city's public works yards on Garbally Road... at a saving of $5,000, too.

Traffic Must Be Headache to Firemen

This was the second fire-engine to be assembled that way and if it proved to be as successful as the first, then, before too long, another one might be built, the fire chief said.

Now, we were ready to take off!

Up on the driver's seat with me was the fire chief. At the wheel was Ed Sundstrom, representing the Seattle firm that supplied the chassis. On the back was Dave Angus, who sold the chassis to the city and fireman driver Tom Crabb. And bouncing around on top of the carefully-coiled hoses was photographer Strickland and his camera.

Down Government Street we went through the park, around the waterfront up over Gonzales Hill along Fairfield Road and out Richmond Road.

And don't ever try to tell me again that it's a cinch sitting up on a fire-engine.

Cars ignore you... never move out of the way (it's a wonder the firemen ever get to a fire, I'd say, after watching the indifference of some motorists).

The wind blew the curl out of my hair, the powder off my face. I even had to feel to be sure my earrings hadn't gone with my powder. ... It was cold too. (The fire chief was right about that coat) ... and in winter it must be positively FREEZING!

You bounce... you rattle... you bang about on the seat. (The fire chief says you get used to it). ... The siren blares in your ears... at close quarters it sounds like the whistle of Mr. Chinook, magnified many times. ... The people on the street whizz by in one blur of faces.

When we were clipping along Richmond Road, and I was just getting adjusted to the swing and the bounce, the fire chief called a halt.

"We'll put her on the back for awhile," he said. ... "Who... me?" I queried. ... "Certainly," he said, "you'll have to get the feel of it from the back."

So down I was hoisted (again I used the word advisedly) and up I was lifted on the back of the pumper. ...

"Stand on your toes," I was told. Also, "relax at the knees." And of course, "Don't let go!"

Riding on Back of Engine a Thrill!

Out Shelbourne Street we went at nearly 60 miles an hour. ... Me hanging on... standing on my toes... bending my knees... and at every bump, being lifted off the floor boards about two feet.

"Look out," the fire chief yelled in my ear, "if you bounce any higher, the pumper will drive right out from under you!"

At the foot of Mt. Douglas I was bundled back in the driver's seat and we went up to the summit "in a breeze." And then down again, the gear shifts changing smoothly, the whole 22,000 pounds of the machine taking the grade without a shiver.

The test was about over and we took the road back to the fire hall at a conservative pace.

"She handles perfectly," Chief Briers said when we got back to Fisgard Street. "I'm proud of her!"

All fire-engines are called "she" or "her" ... "that's why we love 'em," Tom Crabb says.

The new pumper is a beauty... even if she did bang me about a bit. ... As for the men in blue who man her, and all the other fire-engines... I take my hat off to 'em. They've got a man-sized job.

Am I stiff today. ... Sure, I am. ... I'm not used to bouncing two feet off the ground on the back of a machine going 60 miles an hour. ... But it was fun... and I enjoyed it. And now, Fire Chief Briers... when do I go to a real fire?

Sisters Reunited Here

Reunited after 35 years are Miss E. M. King, 1438 Begbie Street, and her sister, Mrs. Beatrice Bowley, who is in Victoria on a visit from Philadelphia, Pa. The sisters last saw each other in Regina, Sask., shortly after Mrs. Bowley's marriage. Miss King came to Victoria to make her home and Mrs. Bowley went to Philadelphia with her husband. Both were born in England and came to Canada in 1912 with their father, Arthur William King, a well-known horticulturist. Their first Canadian home was in Watrous, Sask., where their brother, the late Rev. F. H. King, preached at All Saints' Anglican Church. After an indefinite stay in Victoria, Mrs. Bowley will travel to Regina to visit relatives of her late husband.

Selecting Beachwear

Bathing suit selection is a suit might be a good choice very confusing business for since it doesn't outline the flesh. Many women, judging by the number of mistaken choices one woman who is quite overweight or has very infirm muscles.

If a woman keeps her figure needs in mind when she shops she'll have less trouble. She'll look her best in skirt-type suits that are long enough—at least midlength. Black is the should try the suit on and look best color choice for her. It at herself in a full-length mirror and an easy fit, neither voluminous nor figure-hugging.

If she's a mature woman, there are certain suits she can eliminate at once before she enters the fitting room (unless her figure is girlish and exceptional). The figure-hugging lastest suits, whether in taffeta, satin or cotton, are not for her.

The extra fat must go somewhere when such a girly-type suit is worn and it generally shows at the thighs and back in a roll where the suit cuts into the flesh. A built-in bra, however, is an absolute necessity.

Almost needless to say, the two-piece suit and the mailot are out for the vast majority of mature women. Likewise, the white suit, the most demanding type of all. Rompers, popular this year, are definitely for the younger set.

Coffee Pot Conceals Gifts

Mrs. M. Scheider, 1512 Fell Street, entertained recently at a shower to honor bride-elect Miss Marjory Blythe. Pantry gifts were concealed in a large decorated coffee pot and a bowl of summer flowers, flanked by silver candlesticks, centred the lace-covered refreshment table. Corsages were presented to the bride-elect, her mother, Mrs. J. Blythe, mother of the groom-elect, Mrs. W. Blair, and grandmother of the groom-elect, Mrs. D. Dodd. Those present were Mrs. B. Clark, Mrs. F. Rundell, Mrs. F. E. Grimshaw, Mrs. P. Bacon, Mrs. Flo Salmon, Mrs. E. Vivian and Misses Megan Jones, Marilyn King, Jo Skinner, Terry Tremblay and Bonnie Blythe.

To Visit at Cordova Bay

Mrs. C. W. Bradshaw will fly to Vancouver on Sunday to meet her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Blade of Berkeley, Calif., who, with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Blade, have been vacationing in Alaska. The foursome, with Mrs. Bradshaw, will then take a short boat trip to Squamish before travelling to Nanaimo, from where they will all motor to Victoria. They will spend 10 days at Mrs. Bradshaw's summer home at Cordova Bay before leaving by car for their homes in California.

Wed in Home Ceremony

Mrs. Rose Clegg and Mr. Frederick Doherty were married recently at a quiet ceremony at the home of the former, 3009 Carey Road. Rev. J. G. Brown was officiating clergyman and witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Barker. A reception was held following the service and about 25 guests attended. Refreshments were served from a table centred with an attractive wedding cake.

'Mr. and Mrs.' Shower

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Orton, 616 Constance Avenue, entertained recently at a "Mr. and Mrs." shower to honor Mr. Roger Strong and his fiancée, Miss Dorothy Popplewell, whose marriage will take place on Saturday evening. Gifts were presented to the groom-elect in a replica of a truck and Mr. Jim Larson, who will be the best man, assisted in opening them. Little Lynn Larson, flower girl, and Nicky Orton, ring-bearer, presented novelty corsages to the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. F. Albany, and groom-elect's mother, Mrs. J. Strong, and a novel nosegay to the bride-elect. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. F. Albany, Mr. and Mrs. H. Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. E. Dorohoy, Mr. and Mrs. D. Albany, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. ## Injured Truck Driver Pulled Thru Windshield

CAMPBELL RIVER — Wednesday afternoon Stanley Bangham, Baile Lumber Co. truck driver, suffered fractures and shock when a wharf here collapsed under his loaded logging truck.

The tide was low at the time, witnesses said, otherwise he would have drowned.

Mrs. George Jacks, nearby resident, heard the crash and called a doctor and ambulance.

Dr. J. Maloney administered a sedative, and Jack Baile, mill owner, helped to extricate the trapped man through a windshield opening.

Early the same morning William Waugh, truck driver, escaped injury when his huge Argonaut Company truck rolled over after crossing a soft shoulder on the company's private road, throwing 30 tons of ore into an adjacent creek.

Widow of Prominent City Lawyer Dead, Lived Here 55 Years

Mrs. Charlotte Grace Maclean, resident of Victoria for the past 55 years and widow of H. A. Maclean, QC, prominent city lawyer, died Thursday at the age of 75 in Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Mrs. Maclean was born in Richmond, Quebec. She was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and the women's auxiliary to Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Surviving are two sons, H. Alan Maclean of Victoria and Donald B. Maclean of Courtenay and two grandchildren.

Dr. J. L. W. McLean will conduct private funeral services at Royal Oak Burial Park Saturday afternoon at 3:15. Cremation will follow. Hayward's are in charge of arrangements.

Logger's Death Accidental

CAMPBELL RIVER — A coroner's jury on Wednesday returned a verdict of accidental death following investigation of a logging mishap fatal to Charles Joseph, 23, signaller at Girdo Logging Co., Redonda Bay.

He was killed almost instantly Monday when a broken cable threw him 80 feet, inflicting numerous fractures and severe internal injuries.

B.C.'s Ottawa Voice Vital Issue—Faurey

Representatives on Government Benches Needed; Must Be Liberal Says Candidate

B.C. needs representatives in the next federal government, says Frank T. Faurey, and to do so, it must elect Liberal MPs.

The Liberal candidate for "Victoria" told an audience of 36 in the Sir James Douglas School auditorium Thursday, candidates of any other party can have little if any effect in framing government policy.

Social Credit with only 70 nominees in the field, he said, could only form a splinter, or nuisance group in the Commons even if the impossible happened and they were all elected.

The CCF represented Socialism, an ideal which has not worked successfully anywhere in the world because it is opposed to man's inner conviction that he must be master of his own destiny.

"The Conservative party," Dr. Faurey said, is the only opposition having any claim to universal representation in the House. And for the Conservatives to form a government they need to add at least 84 seats to their holding in the last parliament of 49.

"Where can they even approach that?" he asked.

ESQUIMALT QUESTION

The Liberal candidate deplored the injection of local issues into an election that should deal only with basic policies which effect the government in its wider aspects.

"But," he continued, "so much has been said about the niggardly treatment accorded Esquimalt by the government that some reply is called for."

Much has been made of the question who is to pave Admirals Road, he said, but this, with other matters of detail can be taken up, and in due course, some agreement reached.

"The important thing," he said, "is that the government maintains a strong working force at HMCS Dockyard and, in the general interest, to maintain a steady flow of work there, not only to keep the ships in good shape but to provide a WINNIPEG (CP)—A Winnipeg postal official said Thursday that an investigation has been launched into the alleged tampering with mail containing election literature of C. R. Simonite, Liberal candidate in Winnipeg South.

Supporters of Mr. Simonite reported that literature sent from their office reached its destination with Progressive Conservative literature enclosed as well, urging support of Dr. O. C. Trainor, PC candidate.

Dr. Trainor said he knew nothing of the incident. "Certainly, it is no action of myself or my committee," he said.

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

SATURDAY, AUGUST 1, 1953

Aries (March 21 to April 19)

Arise determined that nothing shall keep you from maintaining a poised, relaxed attitude with the who come within the realm of your influence or activities. You then avoid pitched battle.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20)

During the early a.m. you are cheerful and full of determination to obtain many worthwhile advantages for yourself. Maintain this steadily later in the day, when family member acts contrary.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21)

You have far more chance than others to impress people with your charm, magnetism and excellent ideas. Friends stoutly back you. Keep tempo of happiness all day.

Cancer (June 22 to July 21)

A.M., look to an official to give you an answer to your present perplexities of a practical nature. Then put an economical course regarding finances, planning regular savings into effect.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21)

A message from afar from a friend showing how to secure hope starts the day out cheerfully. Don't let an argument with an official who is an inflated upstart lessen your equanimity later.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)

Woman authority, a benign individual, will shower favors early if you get in touch with her. A feeling of frustration over private demand requires you to find comfort in seeing silver lining.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN SATURDAY . . .

A child born Saturday has so much charm that he or she seems able to get away with almost anything. This is not good, since there is constantly so much energy generated in your offspring and so much enjoyment in battling points of life that only by calm acceptance of conditions as they are and trying to solve them in a pacific manner will your progeny fulfill his or her potentialities for good.

SUNDAY, AUGUST 2, 1953

Aries (March 21 to April 19)

Think out basic way to live harmoniously early a.m. rather than to seek temporary pleasures. Later, good chance to arrange household finances, allowance more efficiently.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20)

Early, avoid fixed problem in the home that can take away from the concord existing there. Get out with relatives, friends, neighbors for pleasant excursion, interesting spot.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21)

Problem that seems insoluble, soon dissolves. In a.m. if you stop fretting, let it work itself out by living right yourself. P.M. prepare better calendar of coming week's activities.

Cancer (June 22 to July 21)

Your present hopes conflict with what you've been taught is right in the past. Be conscientious in sticking to proven principles but modernize them intelligently; p.m. enjoy friends.

Leo (July 22 to August 21)

Who wants this house? I am selling. Unobstructed view. High quality. Full hot-air furnace, electric hot water, attached machine garage. Substantial mortgage.

Price $10,500

Full details by phoning Eric Turner.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)

You are in awe of an overall situation that seems to require expanded activity; do not take this seriously since it automatically eases in p.m. bringing you desired hope. Accept.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN SUNDAY . . .

A child born Sunday starts out in life with less vitality than most children seem to have, but there is a sturdy and better; make point to see that this youngster has plenty of rest, sleep and good food always. This is an inflexible part of daily living. The later years also produce a progressive attitude and ability develops which brings success in any work connected with government, research, atomic science, etc.

New Plan Tried Out For Safer Highways

Motor Vehicle Branch Officers Studying Individual Records to Attempt Reforms

By DAVE STOCK

British Columbia's new plan for dealing with motorists with bad driving records is now being put into general operation.

While idea of the plan is to make good drivers out of bad—before they cause serious damage, personal injury or death.

Officials of the Motor Vehicle Branch in charge of this work refer to their plan as an educational program and stress that every case is to be considered individually.

For the time being, at least, they are shying away from the point system now in effect in Manitoba, which sets out so many black marks for each infraction of highway rules and assigns about automatic license suspension when a certain total is reached.

It is not our intention to people off the road," Lindsay, superintendent of motor vehicles, made clear today. "What we want to do is make people safe while they are on the road."

NEEDS VARY
Suspension of a person's driver's license in certain cases is regarded as being the most effective way of bringing them to line. In other instances, though, a serious talk is all that is needed to make a careless driver realize the need for exercising greater care.

Since May 1, when the new program was introduced, 58 persons have had their licenses suspended. Some suspensions were for only 30 days, others for as long as one year. Nineteen persons have been summoned to conferences to discuss their bad records and 352 have been sent warning letters.

Only five women were included among the 352 persons sent warning letters, and there were no women among the 58 persons whose licenses were suspended.

MOST UNDER 40
Drivers under 40 are the ones causing the most trouble on the highways. They accounted for 92 per cent of those receiving warnings.

Youngsters from 16 to 21 were responsible for 32.6 per cent of the total; young adults from 22 to 30, 41.6 per cent; persons 31 to 40, 17.6 per cent.

Persons aged between 41 and 50 accounted for only 5.4 per cent of the total and persons 51 to 60, 2.5 per cent. There were no drivers over 60 on the warning list.

Dalton Winner In Skeet Shoot

RENO, Nev. (UP).—Thirty-three-year-old Chevy Chase, Md., investment broker John C. Dalton won 20 gauge honors in the national skeet tournament Thursday by winning a six-way shoot-off for the championship.

Dalton, competing in the second day's events of the five-day tourney, won the national 28 gauge crown Wednesday.

MRA Leaders Discount Red Bid for India

CAUX, Switzerland (AP)—Dr. Frank Buchman, founder of the Moral Rearmament movement, told the organization's assembly here today that Communism would never be able to unite India.

Dr. Buchman, who visited India last spring, said Communism is making an "all-out bid" in southeast Asia. He said Communism is being opposed by "men and women who will stand persecution if need be to make their nation great."

"If we want to see India united," he said, "Communism will never do the trick. It is only the spirit of the living God which grants the unity that will make India great. Africa and India may yet be the focal power for the East."

Two German miners, both former Communist leaders, also spoke at today's session.

Max Bladock, for 25 years a Communist worker in the Ruhr who traveled with Dr. Buchman in India and Pakistan, said "the decision before all of us is either world Communism or world MRA."

Death of Taft Removes Key Figure From U.S. Government

Three-Time Candidate for Presidential Nomination Victim of Cancer at 63

From UP and AP Dispatches

NEW YORK—Robert A. Taft, 63-year-old "Mr. Republican," whose party never gave him a chance to run for the presidency his father had held, died today (of cancer) in New York hospital.

The hospital bulletin said: "Senator Taft's life came to an end quietly, without pain, at 11:30 a.m., July 31, 1953.

"His death was the result of widespread, highly malignant, rapidly-growing tumors."

The bulletin was issued and signed by Dr. Claude E. Forster, Taft's physician and a member of the hospital staff.

His death removed from the political scene the key figure supporting President Eisenhower in the Senate and a tower of strength in the first Republican administration since the early 1930's.

His wife, Martha, his counsel and companion through a third of a century of politics, was forced by her own illness to remain in Washington. She visited him Tuesday but stayed only the one day. Mrs. Taft has been confined to a wheelchair since suffering a stroke three years ago.

The Ohio senator, whose illness forced him to give up the Senate Republican floor leadership last month, entered New York hospital July 4.

Three sons gathered for an all-night watch Thursday. They were William Howard III, 37, U.S. ambassador to Ireland who had flown here from Dublin Thursday; Robert, Jr., 35, and Lloyd Bowers, 30. The fourth son, Horace, 27, arrived this morning from Los Alamos, N.M.

Besides Mrs. Taft, the survivors include a brother, Charles

DEATH HITS EISENHOWER GOVERNMENT

WASHINGTON (UP)—News of Sen. Robert A. Taft's death struck the capital and the Eisenhower administration with a sledge-hammer force today shortly after the Senate met in early session.

The thin Republican majority in the Senate had dwindled to nothing. To retain control the Republican party must now depend on the frequently uncertain course of Sen. Wayne Morse (Ind.-Ore.).

Morse told reporters, however, he would vote to keep Republicans in power.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio is a Democrat and is expected to appoint a Democrat to succeed "Mr. Republican" in the Senate. If so, the count would be:

Republicans 47, Democrats 48, Independent 1.

On a showdown, with Morse voting to keep the Republicans in power, the Senate would be tied, 48-to-48.

P. Taft, Cincinnati lawyer, government management authority, and churchman; a sister, Dr. Helen Herron Taft Manning, former dean and acting president of Bryn Mawr College and now professor of history there; and his four sons.

THE LATE ROBERT TAFT

Red Fighters Downed B-50, Survivor Says

TOKYO (UP)—Lt. John Ernest Roche, only known survivor of an American B-50 lost off the coast of Siberia, said today his plane was shot down by Russian fighter aircraft.

Roche, co-pilot of the plane which crashed in the Sea of Japan Wednesday with a crew of 17 aboard, said the American bomber was at least 40 miles off the Soviet coast when it was attacked.

MORE SURVIVORS?

Moscow charged Thursday that a B-50 flew over the Siberian coast near the big port of Vladivostok Wednesday and opened fire as two Soviet fighters rose to intercept it.

In a strongly-worded note delivered to the U.S. embassy, Moscow said the fighters returned the fire and the bomber disappeared in the direction of the sea.

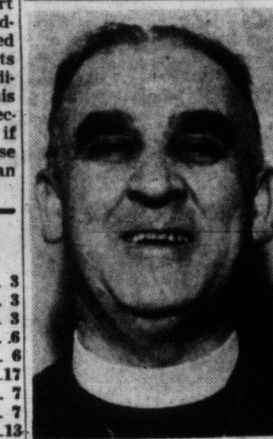

The note demanded that the U.S. government see to it that Russia's frontier is not violated and that the "guilty fliers" be punished.

The state department announced it has protested to Moscow against the shooting and asked "an immediate report" from Russian authorities on the condition of the survivors and plans for releasing them.

SKETCHES OF CANDIDATES START TODAY

As a public service feature, The Times commences publication of a series dealing with the personalities of the six Victoria candidates in the federal election.

The first article appears on page 13 of this issue.

Archbishop Dies

Most Rev. Louis Ralph Sherman of Winnipeg, Anglican archbishop of Rupert's Land, died in hospital at Brandon, Man., this morning after a brief illness. (See Story Page 3).

Eyewitness Accounts Of Bus Tragedy

By CP and BUP

Here are the stories told by two survivors of the bus plunge in Ontario today: Ronald Mortished, 62, of Dublin, prominent representative of Ireland on international organizations:

"I was asleep when the accident happened. Most of the other people in the bus were sleeping too.

"The first thing I remembered was an explosion followed by what looked like a blue flash. Then the bus seemed to be turning over and over.

"At some stage I realized that water was coming into the bus. I was sitting on the left side of the bus right next to the emergency door and I tried to open the door but couldn't.

"A fellow behind me pulled himself up on the luggage rack and shoved his feet through the window. He went through first and I followed him. My head was practically under water before I got out, and right after the bus was full of water.

"I came to the surface and saw other people milling about in the water and shrieking. In the dim light I could see the side of the canal and set out for it. I just made it because I am a poor swimmer and short of breath.

"I lost my belongings and my false teeth. But I'm not complaining. I only think of those poor devils who didn't have the luck that I did. It was a grim, nerve-shattering experience."

"I don't think anybody in the bus, except maybe the driver, knows exactly what happened. It all came too fast.

"There was just the crash, and then everybody was like most other people, in the second seat from the front of the bus. Suddenly we were in the water, and the water was coming in the windows.

The driver kept shouting, "Keep calm, keep calm. Everything will be all right."

The man next to me was lying across my knees. He seemed to be jammed in and he was bleeding pretty badly. I kicked open the window and tried to get him out. I couldn't. He died in there.

I climbed up on the roof of the bus, but it sank in the water around me. Other people were swimming all around. I started after them.

When I reached shore the bus had gone under. I could still see its lights in the water.

17 Escape When Carrier Sinks in Canal After Collision

By H. DENT HODGSON

MORRISBURG, Ont. (CP)—Twenty travellers plunged to death in the Williamsburg canal early today after a Colonial Coach Lines express bus ripped into a panel truck parked on the busy Toronto-Montreal highway.

Five hours after the crash on No. 2 Highway, a busy transport artery, a diver recovered 10 of the dead from the canal. Soon after the submerged bus, bearing another 10 dead, was hauled up the 30-foot-high, brush-lined embankment and brought here to a funeral home.

A source at the funeral parlor said there were 20 bodies of crash victims.

10 Victims Still Unidentified

The male victims were identified but it may be some time before the identity of the remainder is established. They were seven women and three men. All were believed to have drowned. No children were aboard.

Reports of the cause of the crash were conflicting. The Colonial Coach Lines in Montreal said in a statement that the truck was stalled on the highway without lights and pointed in the same direction as the bus was traveling—to Montreal.

Traffic Snarled, Shipping Halted

The accident occurred about 5 a.m. on No. 2 Highway, where the highway, the canal and the Flat Rapids converge. The bus and the panel truck both plunged into the Flat Canal, one of the three canals making up the Williamsburg Canal. In the dim light shortly after dawn, rescuers could see the bus lights burning under water.

The two vehicles plummeted down a 30-foot embankment and sank in 20 feet of water. It was not immediately known if there was anyone besides Roodman in the truck, still in the canal.

The accident snarled highway traffic for miles and shipping was brought to a standstill.

A spokesman for Colonial Coach Lines in Montreal said the bus was one of two heading from Toronto to Montreal. The driver of the second bus was flagged down by a transport driver leaving Iroquois, Ont., and warned there was a truck without lights parked across the road a short distance up the highway.

Mrs. Grant Beckstead, who lives across the highway from the spot where the collision occurred, said the noise woke her and her family.

"We didn't think it was so serious at first. There was a west wind and we didn't hear the cries for help. They heard them at the next house, owned by my brother-in-law, Mahlon Beckstead."

"The ones who survived lined up on the bank and were taken to my brother-in-law's house where they gave them tea.

"The bus was on its side under water with the lights still on; that was about half an hour after the accident. My husband went down to help out."

In Ottawa, the transport department said its canal officials were informed about 4 a.m. by police and closed the canal to navigation. The ban on shipping will remain in effect until all bodies are accounted for.

Malenkov Needs Army Support Says Report

LONDON (AP)—Reports that a trio of Russian war-hero marshals under the famed Georgi Zhukov has taken over real power in the Soviet Union were studied here today.

The evening News said Prime Minister Churchill had been informed. The Foreign Office declined comment.

Fearful that he could not maintain his grip in the wake of the purge of Interior Minister L. P. Beria, the paper says, Premier George Malenkov turned in desperation to the professional soldiers of the Soviet army who now are the "power behind the throne."

The article in Thursday night's edition of Lord Rothermere's newspaper was signed by its diplomatic correspondent C. F. Melville, who said he understood Churchill was "so impressed by reports of a takeover of power by a military pro-peace group that he is about to redouble his efforts to get an early round-table between the Russian and Western heads of government."

Bulgarian, this account said, "is expected to disappear from the scene before long, as he was one of Stalin's hand-picked men."

Melville wrote that the three soldiers would strongly favor peace with the West because they believe "Russia is not in a position to risk conflict." He continued:

"Marshal Zhukov personally was a friend of President (then general of the army) Eisenhower at the end of the war, and Ike has said of him: 'This is a man with whom I could do business.'"

BUTLER WARNS

U.K. Won't Support Korea 'Walk-Out'

LONDON (UP)—Britain was out of the political conference on Korea.

"The Korean campaign has been fought under the auspices of the United Nations and the peace settlement, too, should be made under those same auspices," Butler said. "We have made our position clear to the United States."

More by-partisan applause greeted Butler's further statement that "if South Korea renews the war, we reserve ourselves to be completely free to take whatever attitude we think right under the circumstances which might prevail at that time."

Although refusing to be pinned down on whether Communist China should be admitted to the UN, the acting prime minister said:

"Our conception of the UN is that it is a family of nations—not an anti-Communist alliance."

Dulles told a press conference in Washington Tuesday:

"If after 90 days it seems that the conference is a sham and unproductive and is being availed of by the Communists as a cover for carrying out subversive activities in Korea, we would join with Mr. (Syngman) Rhee in walking out of the political conference."

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada will participate in a political conference on Korea if requested by the United Nations general assembly but will not seek such participation, an external affairs spokesman said today.

He was commenting on a statement Thursday in the British House of Commons by the acting prime minister R. A. Butler that the United States, France, Britain, North and South Korea, Australia, India and Turkey should attend the political conference on Korea which is to be held under the armistice terms.

7th Mill Fire

TRAIL, B.C. (CP)—Fire destroyed the Kelly Lot Lumber Company mill near Kamloops, B.C., 18 miles from here Thursday night. An estimate of damage was not immediately available, but both the mill and machinery were reported a complete loss.

New Beauty Queen

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—The new reigning beauty of Kelowna Regatta is 17-year-old Linda Ghezzi. Sponsored by Kelowna's Kiwanis Club, Miss Ghezzi was chosen Lady of the Lake Thursday, succeeding Kathy Archibald, last year's winner.

Miss Archibald was recently named "Miss Canada" at a contest at Burlington, Ont.

Under Arrest

CAIRO, Egypt (UP)—Otto Ernst Remer, the Nazi storm trooper who foiled the abortive 1944 bomb plot to kill Adolf Hitler, has been put under arrest here, reliable sources said today.

Remer was a major when he crushed the plan of a group of army generals to kill Hitler. The Nazi Fuehrer immediately promoted Remer to the rank of major-general in the Berlin Guard battalion.

He fled to Egypt last April after failing to report for a three-month jail sentence in February for slandering the men who took part in the bomb plot.

OL' VIC SAYS

M' Uncle Zeke's wife sez that's all very well about Dior's skirt lengths, but how about work aprons, which is all she gits 't wear?

No gov'mint c'd be as extravagant as some o' th' extravagant remarks made about 'em.

See th' U.S. is goin' 't punish them fellers who had more than one wife. Whut more kin they do to 'em?

Followed Family Tradition

Politics was in the blood of Robert Alphonso Taft. His father, William Howard Taft, was Governor-General of the Philippines, Secretary of War, President, and later Chief Justice of the United States. His paternal grandfather, Alphonso Taft, served as Secretary of War, Attorney-General and Minister to Austria and to Russia.

"Bob" Taft started his political career at the bottom of the ladder as a precinct committeeman in Cincinnati. Then he advanced to the Ohio legislature and to the U.S. Senate, where he became a power.

Three times he came within striking distance of the presidency.

Along the way he established such a reputation as an exponent of undiluted party policy that he was known as "Mr. Republican."

In 1952 Taft set out in earnest with a vigorous campaign for nomination long before the convention at Chicago. Just before the balloting he claimed that the nomination was as good as his.

But Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, with the substantial help of Governor Dewey, edged him out with a sudden burst of strength.

While Eisenhower won on the first ballot, it was a close race. The voting see-sawed at the end of the call of the general lacked nine votes of the 604 needed for the nomination. He had 595 and Taft 500. Minnesota then changed its vote to put Eisenhower in.

Taft, in the blasted ruins of his hopes, vowed that "this is the last time I'll ever run for President."

"I'll be then 62," he added. He was then 62.
